Academics

Science Department Special Projects

Language Arts

▲The seventh hour drama class performed several original skits throughout the year. Above is a skit to kickoff the Homecoming game. Performers and the coaches they represented are from left, Taylor Myers, representing Tom Kivett; Jason Grace, representing Erle Bennett; and Jason Windsor, representing John Gillman. (L. Schafer photo)

by Julie Wiecken

The cadet teaching program provides students with the opportunity to experience teaching on a first hand basis.

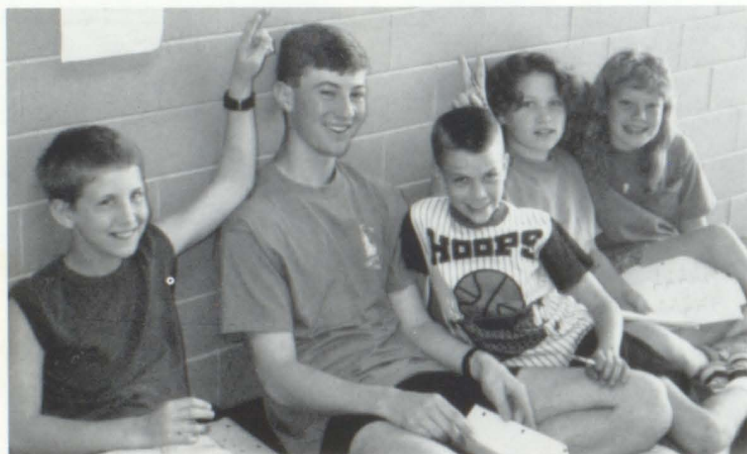

Cadet teachers are chosen based on their grades, attendance, and character. Once chosen, they spend one hour every day at the middle or elementary schools assisting a teacher of their choice. They grade papers, help students with homework, take small groups into the hall to read, etc.

Cadet teachers are graded on the basis of book reviews, teacher evaluations, and journals.

Classroom Courtroom

Using information from four real court cases, Social Studies I students again participated in the mock trials.

After all students passed the basic due process and trial procedure test, trial work began: roles were assigned, witnesses received information packets of what they "knew" in each case, attorneys came up with questions for cross examination, and rehearsals began. Limited information was given out about the opposing side's witnesses.

According to Bobbie Tetley, the exercise involved compromise and give and take, essentials for the real world.

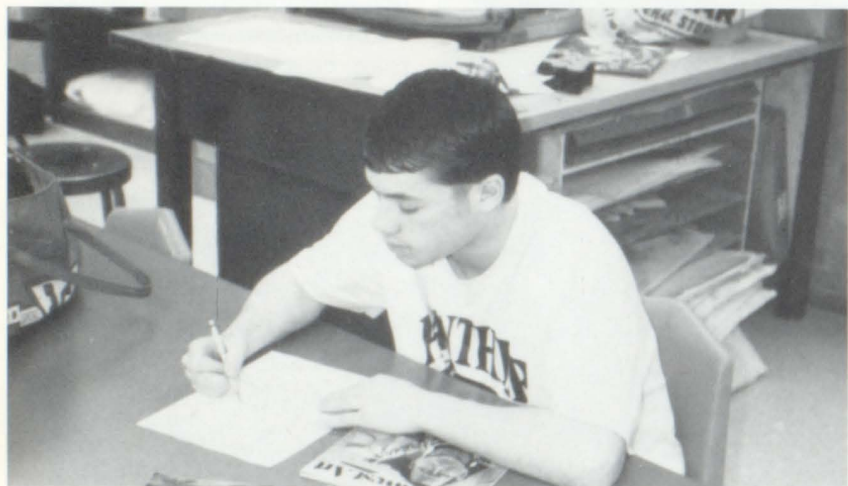

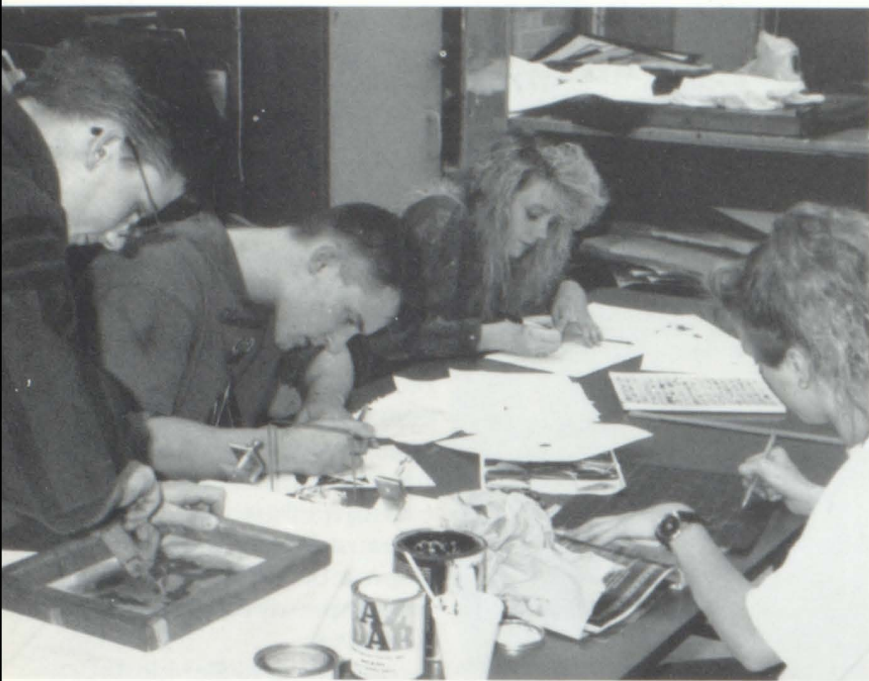

Savor the Flavor ...

Of Spanish cuisine, that is. Pictured on this half of the page is only one of the many creative activities Mrs. Teresa Thrasher prepared for her Spanish I, II, and III classes.

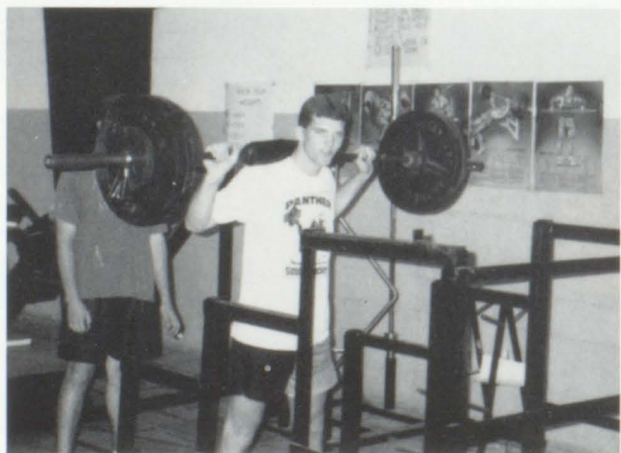

Other special projects included making Spanish Christmas cards, writing and performing original Spanish commercials, learning Spanish dances, and making pinatas.

FRIENDS ARE FRIENDS FOREVER

Sissy. . . I know this last year has not been an easy one for you. Know that it will get better. If your dad were alive he would be very proud of you ... I know I am. I may not always approve of everything you do but I'll always love you regardless. Secure your future, stay independent, stay in school, let your light shine. Love, MOM

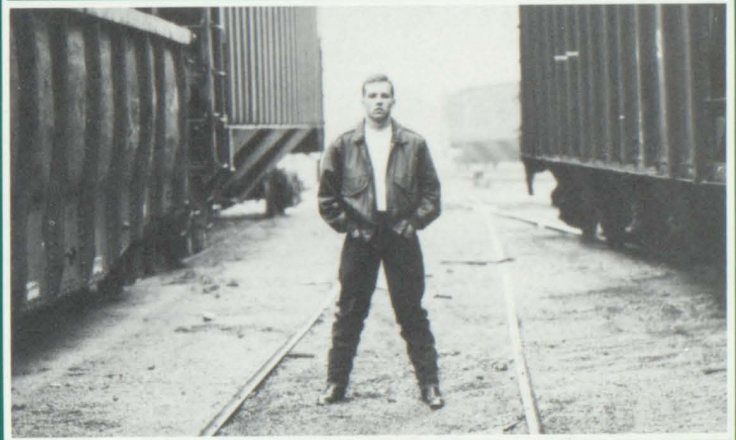

Congratulations Julie and Kendra!

You've worked very hard, and we're extremely proud of both of you.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Craig, and Curt

TAYLOR

Ever since you could talk,
and your words had meaning,
You've been dreaming about
"How It's Going To Be".
Now, here it is,
Not the end, but the beginning.
So don't give up the adventure,
Stay the course.
For what good is a man without a dream ... or
A Rebel without a Cause.

Love,

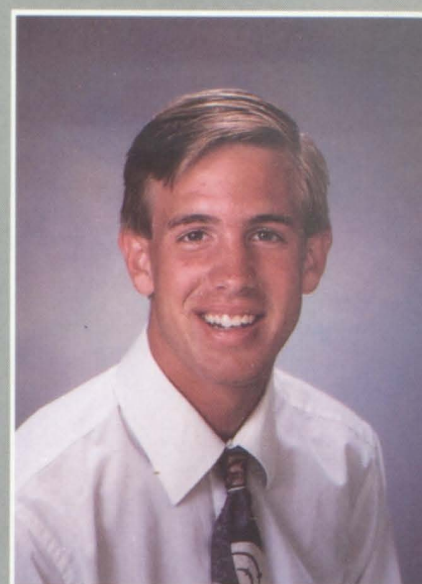

Dad..Mom..Hilary..Mariah

COE Enhances Job Skills

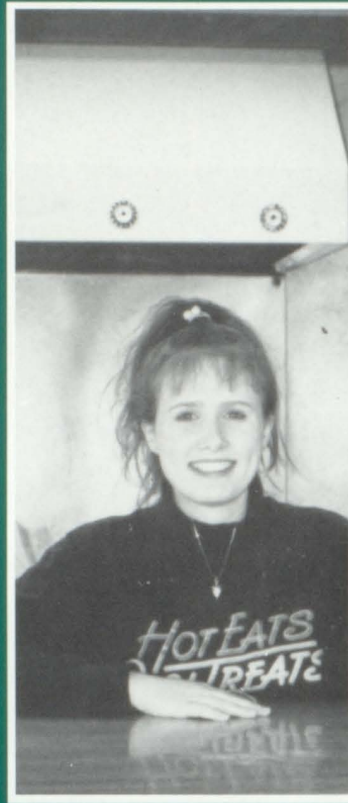

by Charmaine Hovis

COE is a work-study program which allows only seniors to work during the day. During the time in employment, students learn job skills of an occupation of their choice.

When students complete the course, they are able to find jobs, interview, write resumes, correctly fill out job applications and tax forms, manage money, and purchase insurance.

Flood '93

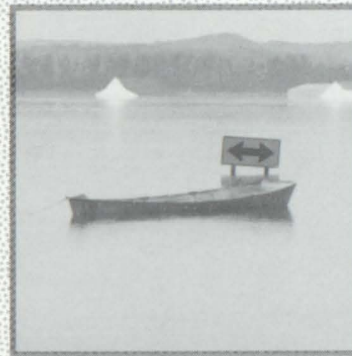

by Julie Wiecken

▲Student Council members lend a helping hand.

▲The water in Hermann rose rapidly.

▲ Yvonne Berndt and Bobbie Tetley help fill sandbags.

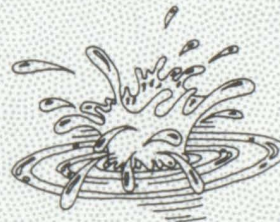

Nine states and over 350 counties (17,000 sq. miles) were affected by the flooding of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers and their tributaries this summer.

Levees broke, bridges and roads were closed, $2.5 billion of crops were lost in Illinois and Iowa alone, people were flooded out of their homes, and, unfortunately, over 30 people were killed.

Not only was physical damage done, but many had to change their lifestyles: volunteers moved their campers to flood areas and lived there while they gave assistance to victims; churches had to relocate their services, Sunday schools, and Bible studies; mail had to be delivered by canoe.

Aid given to victims was overwhelming. Congress passed a $2.98 billion flood relief bill, Salvation Armies dished out hundreds of dinners, in St. Louis County volunteers built a five foot "wall of sandbags," and the Red Cross opened shelters and provided families of four with $95 a week.

Locally CHS librarian Linda Ramsey and other librarians sent money to help rebuild flooded libraries. The CHS Stu-Co sent volunteers to the Moberly Highway Department to help fill sandbags sent to Boonville, State Farm Insurance sent volunteers to sandbag, and 63 Diner and many radio stations raised money for victims.

Storms Brew at Homecoming

by Corey Pointer and Jennifer Spears

The focal point of Homecoming Week '93 centered on four weather conditions: earthquakes, tornadoes, thunderstorms, and hurricanes. True to tradition, senior Julie Brooks and her Stu-Co committee planned activities for each day of the week to keep spirit and enthusiasm alive throughout the week.

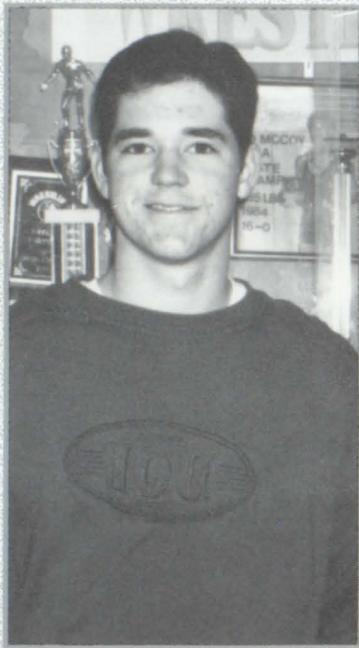

On Monday, Hurricane Day, students wore the colors and logos of their favorite college teams. Tuesday, Rainbow Day, saw students dressed colorfully. Students wore ballcaps and sunglasses on Wednesday to celebrate Sun in Your Eyes Day. Thursday was rather gloomy; students dressed in gray and blue for Fog Day.

Thursday evening was full of fire, fun, and flashlights as students gathered at the high school for the annual flashlight parade and bonfire. Friday students wore black and white to support the Panthers. They were dismissed from school at 1:15 p.m. to participate in the Homecoming parade.

Brooks was crowned 1993 Homecoming Queen during halftime of the victorious football game. The Panthers defeated Palmyra 24-19. Senior Jason Windsor was crowned Mr. Panther at Saturday night's dance.

Annual Madrigals Held

by Mandy Ivy and Jennifer Spears

The Centralia High School vocal music department presented its sixth annual madrigal dinners at 6:30 P.M., on Dec. 2, 3, and 4 in the cafeteria.

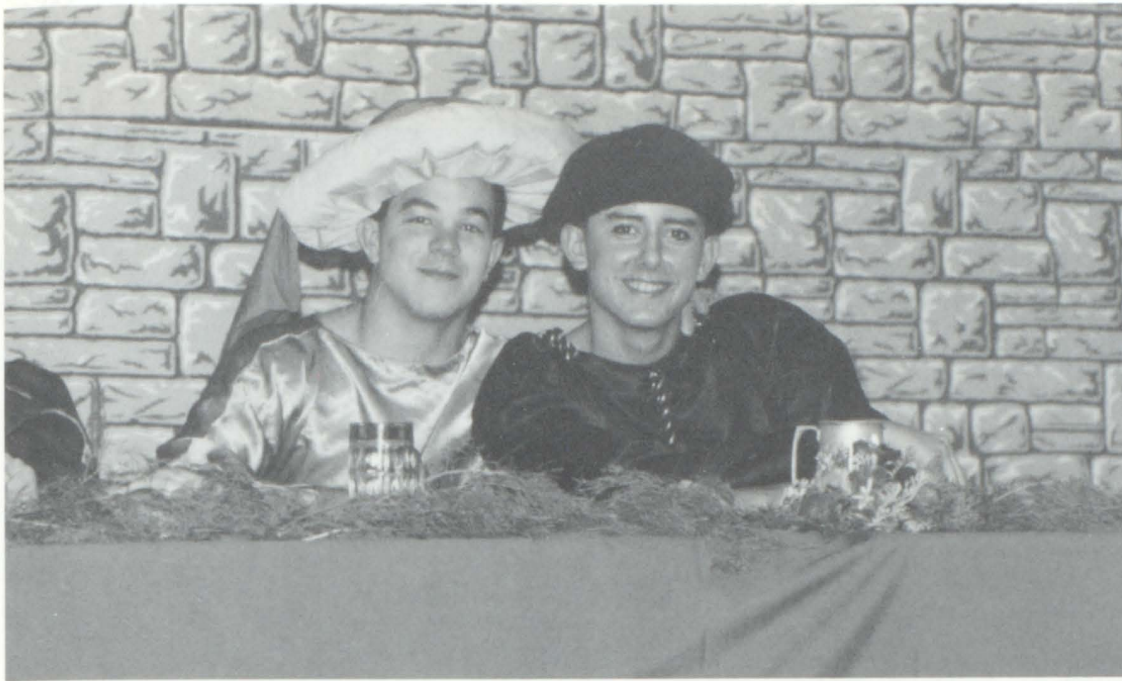

Roast beef, carrots, new potatoes, a small salad, fruit cup, and spiced applesauce cake were served as each evening's dinner.

For entertainment, the cast performed a parody of "The Emperor's New Clothes" titled "The M. Perors Gnu Close." Cast members included king Jake Schnarre; queen Misty Thurston; jester Chris Denham; emperor Jeff Taylor; Pierrot, Ryan Trask; Ms. P. C., Sarah Shultz; rogues Josh Dorr and Dana Allen; the child, Codi Dawson; and emissary Michael Clutter.

For two months prior to the performances, students and director Mike Pierson prepared for the traditional dinners.

"The students worked very hard to put on an excellent performance, which really made this year's performances a huge success!" Pierson said.

Proceeds of approximately $2,500 will go into the vocal music activity account which pays for the music department expenses. An average of 175 people attended each evening.

This year's Courtwarding theme was "Movies." The activities during the week included a class competition, a candy guess, sending good luck-o-grams and dress-up days:

- Monday, Twins Day;
- Tuesday, Tombstone Day;
- Wednesday, Beverly Hillbillies Day;
- Thursday, Revenge of the Nerds Day;
- Friday, Black and White Day and Hug a Basketball Player and Cheerleader Day.

The sophomore class won the dress-up days for Courtwarding week, and Charmaine Hovis won the candy guess.

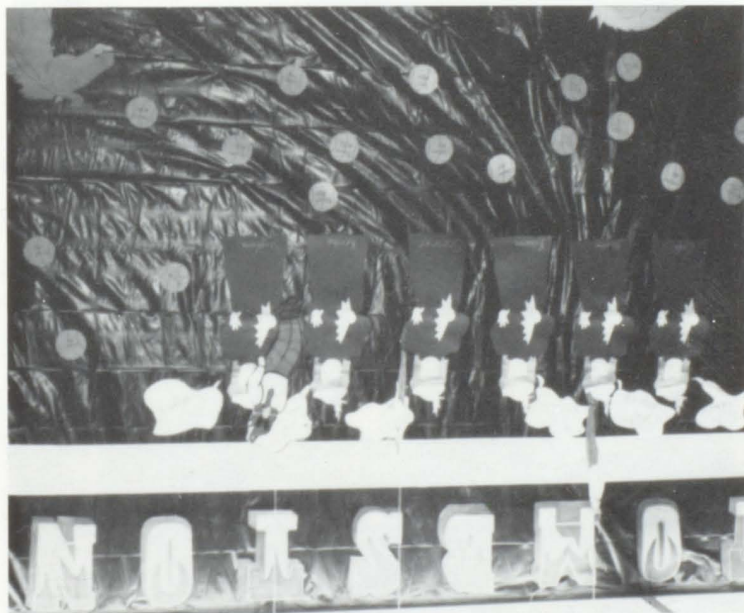

According to Julie Brooks, a lot of hard work was put into hall decorations. This year's winners were the juniors; the sophomores were second, freshmen third, and seniors fourth.

The senior candidates were chosen by the student body. They were Mindi Mills, Dustin Leach, Julie Brooks, Jason Windsor, Kristen Reichert, Jason Grace, Misty Thurston, and Donnie Schultz.

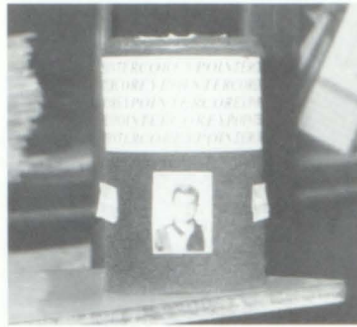

The Courtwarding King and Queen were Grace and Reichert. Schultz and Cassie Romine were chosen Mr. and Miss Basketball.

The Courtwarding dance was deejayed by Complete Music DeeJay out of St. Louis.

This year's band carnival was held on March 19. There were many games set up throughout the school and a spaghetti dinner was held in the cafeteria.

According to director Rob Goade, proceeds from the carnival fund band camp scholarships, trips, instrument purchases and other band program needs.

During the concert intermission, Corey Pointer and Angela McKelvy were crowned band royalty. Other king and queen candidates were Todd DeOrnellis, Beth Hasekamp, Damon Hombs, Jessi Mears, Jim Mullen, and Mandy Woodward.

Also during the intermission many prizes were awarded from the raffle donated by local stores.

Denham Crowned 1994 Mr. Student Body

by Molly Goen

On March 11 eighteen young men competed for the title of Mr. Student Body 1994. The fifth annual Student Council-sponsored pageant revolved around the theme "Glamour Boys."

Stu-Co vice-president Julie Brooks and Doug Quinn, Mr. Student Body 1993, co-emceed the event. Judges for the evening were Corey Curtis (KZZT-FM), Sara Hunter (K102 Morning Show), and Ron Widbin (KMIZ, Channel 17 News).

After the competitions the candidates were narrowed down to four, and Chris Denham was crowned Mr. Student Body 1994.

The Boy Who Changed the World

by Julie Wiecken

The Centralia High School drama class presented their annual play on April 21 and 22. This year's play was titled "The Boy Who Changed the World." It took place in the prehistoric era. The play was about George, the misfit in society and his struggles with relationships, school, fitting in, and earning a club, his sign of manhood.

PROM

by Corey Pointer

This year's prom was held April 30. "In the Still of the Night" was the theme selected, and juniors chose black, white, and silver as prom colors.

Magic Mobile Sound from Kansas City provided music and videos for the evening. Key junior parents who assisted were Cindy and Randy Barnes, Pam and Randy Bryson, and Nancy and Ivan Sweezer, who decorated outside in the rain; Cindy and Randy Barnes who chaired valet parking; Lynda Sykes and Debra Wilkerson, who were in charge of refreshments; and Loretta Herndon, who put up the balloon trees. Arah Catherine Grimes, owner of Arah Acres in Hallsville, donated all of the outside lights.

At about 10 p.m., John Hayden and Veronica Barabash were crowned 1994 prom King and Queen.

baccalaureate services, sponsored by the Centralia Ministerial Alliance, were held on Mother's Day at the First Baptist Church this year. Curt Scarborough, Ph.D., president of the Christian Civic Foundation, chose "A Challenge to Your Future" as his address to the seniors.

Commencement exercises were held at 3 p.m., May 15, in the high school gymnasium.

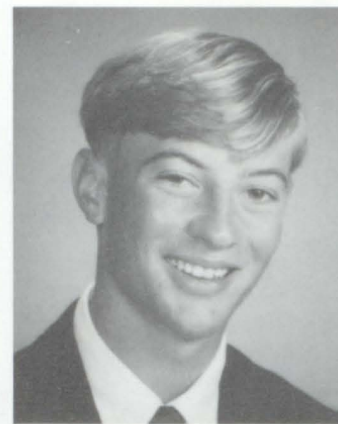

The ceremony began with a welcome from principal James Head. He then introduced the two seniors selected to give the commencement address, Amy Hanneken and Dustin Leach. (L. Schafer and Prestige photos)

Following that, the band, under Rob Goade's direction, performed. Head then announced the top 10 graduating seniors in descending order. Ryan Trask was announced the class valedictorian, and Jason Grace was announced the salutatorian.

Twenty-seven seniors received a total of 54 scholarships.

Fine Arts Night

May 10 was the annual Fine Arts Night, which featured art, industrial art, and home economic projects, along with musical entertainment by the middle and high school bands.

An addition to the evening, was an art auction. Proceeds from this year's auction were used to provide two $500 art scholarships for seniors Chris Denham and Jeff Jacobson.

Let the Construction Begin!

Outside construction at the high school began in late April, followed by the wiring of fire alarms in every classroom in the late afternoons after classes let out.

However, on Friday, May 13, teachers and students began boxing all books, supplies, computers and computer equipment. On Monday, pallets were placed outside every classroom, and boxes were piled on them to be moved out to the ag building. Heavy furniture was moved to the gymnasium, and student desks were stacked on both sides of the main hallway.

All offices were moved to the sports storeroom next to the gym. Teachers said that they could not have completed the move without the cooperation of the students.

Clockwise — Construction workers have forms in place for an additional classroom; The principal's, secretary's, and counselors' offices are cozily arranged in the office next to the stage; Heather McKelvy, Kylie Deimeke, and Donna Hoffman were just a few of the students instrumental in packing up the resource center; Boxes on pallets lined the hallways; Pallets were sealed and placed in the ag. building.

It had been four years since a Stu-Co sponsored field day was held, but on May 18, the organization hosted a successful event.

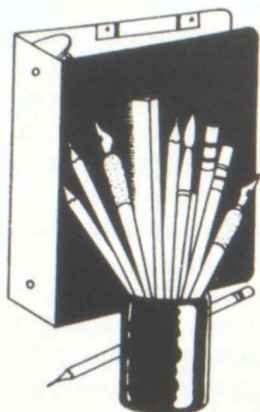

Several weeks prior to the day, members distributed surveys to all home-rooms just to see if there was an interest in such a day. There was. Each student who responded favorably to the survey was then assigned to a field day event and team.

Events held were volleyball, moosh ball, a tug-of-war, and a water hose relay. The high school cooks prepared barbecued burgers, baked beans, chips, and Koolaid. Students could purchase sodas from Stu-Co members for 35 cents.

After everyone ate, the games began. Approximately 100 students and faculty members attended, and everyone seemed to enjoy the afternoon to relax after the hectic days of packing.

Current Events Day '94

by Jeremy Tuggle

The annual Stu-Co sponsored Current Events Day was held the afternoon of March 22. Topics presented to the student body included Abortion/ Teenage Pregnancy, Gangs, Aids, Gun Control, MU Representatives, Affirmative Action, Bosnia, Satanic Cults, and Media Coverage.

Every student was allowed to choose three sessions to attend. Faculty members moderated the sessions, allowing the speakers time to present slides, videos, and lectures.

Following the presentations, the students were allowed time to ask questions of the speakers.

“Lift-Off '94” was a project designed by coach Erle Bennett to raise money for the high school weight room. Both middle school and high school students were divided into four teams led by three junior captains. The team led by Ryan McKenzie, Jeremy Tuggle, and Wesley Webber won with a team total of $1,287. They were rewarded with dinner at Pizza Hut. The project raised over $2800.

Inclusion

by Donna Hoffman

Inclusion in an innovative program which provides all students with equal opportunities in an integrated setting. In the past, students needing extra assistance would have been pulled out of classes. They now receive that assistance in the classroom setting.

For one section of each core class there is a second teacher available to provide additional help and supplementary materials to any student who needs it. This creates a benefit for every student, as well as providing each with the social skills training necessary for life and ensuring availability of the full range of experiences offered at Centralia High School. This program has been in place for two years and the students involved have been very successful.

Panthers Seal a Winning Season

by Ryan McKenzie and Jeremy Tuggle

The CHS Panthers began the 1993 season with nine returning starters. This year's team was comprised of a lot of young players.

"This season was funny because we had a lot of things happen that normally don't during a season," head coach Tom Kivett said.

All of the games were very close, within one touchdown, except for Salisbury. On the seventh week of the season, Kivett was hospitalized, and coach Erle Bennett had to take over for the Monroe City game. Even with all the things the team went through, the Panthers still had a 6-4 season.

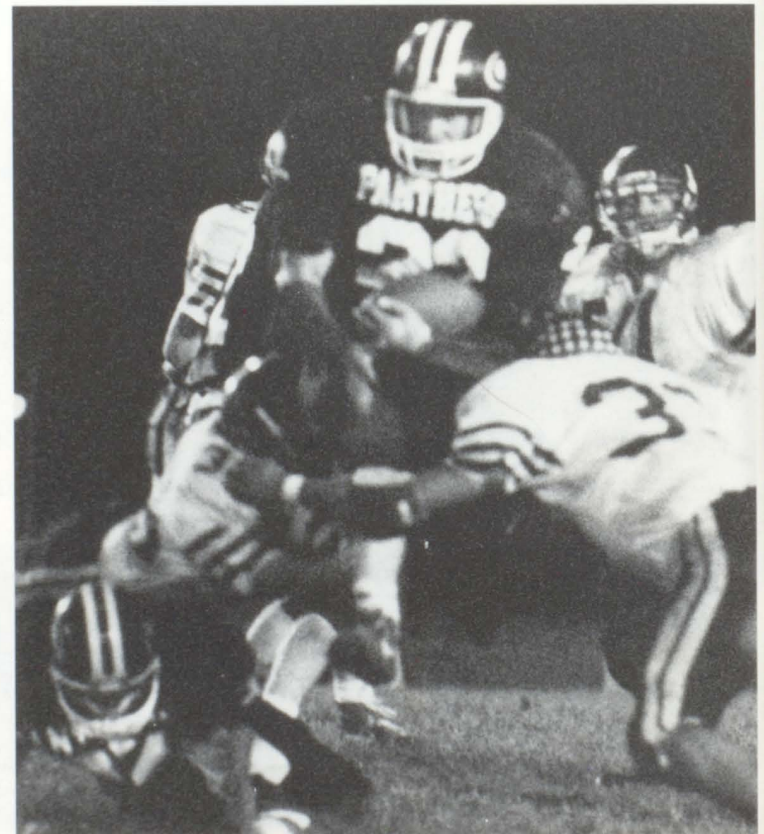

Offensively, Kivett thought the best game was the South Shelby game. The team had 362 yards of total offense.

Kivett thought the best defensive game was against Marceline. The team held a 1000 yard rusher to negative yardage.

Five players were named to all-district teams. Gavin Johnson, Joe Reichert, and Jeremy Tuggle made first team while Jeff Jacobson and Ryan McKenzie made second team (pictured below).

Frosh, Junior Varsity Panthers Stride as Improvements Continue

The 1993 freshmen Panthers, under the leadership of coach Randy Wiedmaier, concluded their football season with a 2-2-1 record.

With the combined efforts of Nick Bryson, Mike Fountain, and Derrick Stidham in the backfield and Ben Davidson and Sean Wright on the offensive line, the Panthers piled up a total of 1,129 yards. Fountain and Stidham led the way in rushing with 326 and 176 yards respectively. With the help of the offensive line, Bryson completed 62 percent of his passes, and Davidson led the team in six receptions.

Stidham and Fountain led the defensive line in tackles/assists. Stidham had 28/16 and Fountain had 25/10. Joe Hilton was the team leader in sacks with three, followed by Eric Willmeth's two.

Coach Lea and I enjoyed working with this group of players. They were hard-working, dedicated, enthusiastic, and they have a great desire to learn the game of football. I think we will see a lot of positive things happen from them at the varsity level if they keep working at getting better each and every day," coach Wiedmaier said.

The JV Panthers finished with a 4-4 season. Their high-powered offense was highlighted by the running of Glendale Hamilton, Doug Quinn, and Jason McCollum. Hamilton also led the defense with the help of Ricky Thomas.

"I thought the guys played pretty hard and got better as the year went. They had a lot of talent," coach John Gillman said.

Lady Harriers Run at State

After Larry Stickney's second year of coaching the CHS cross country team, he said he felt comfortable with the sport and the runners.

The entire girls' team qualified for state this year. Michael Clutter went to state individually because there weren't enough boys on the team to have a boys' team. The captain, Justin Thurston, was injured approximately three weeks before state competition.

"We didn't place ... we came in about the middle ... not the best, but not the worst," Stickney said, "I would like to see more boys go out next year and have more community support," he added.

Albert, Sweezer Make All-Conference All-District, All-State

by Mandy Ivy

This year's varsity girls' softball team won its first game against Paris, 16-6. The junior varsity also started out successfully, winning its first game over Paris, 17-5.

Starting seniors were outfielders Julie Brooks and Elizabeth Torreyson. Junior starters were second baseman Becky Albert, catcher Heather Davidson, outfielders Heather Kuntz and April Smith, centerfielder Cassie Romine, third baseman Amy Sweezer, and short-stop Mandy Woodward. Underclass starters were sophomores Holly Sweezer and Shauna Taylor, and freshman Stephanie Lansche.

Centralia played host to the first Clarence Cannon Conference softball tournament and lost to Highland 7-4 in a consolation game. According to coach Stacey Throckmorton, it was the first time all season that the Lady Panthers played against other conference schools.

The Moberly game was one of the best games the girls played. Centralia won by one point, with Davidson hitting the winning RBI.

"Next year we'll have eight returning starters. Their future is very promising. They were a fun group to work with," Throckmorton said.

McKelvy First Four Year District Golfer

by Molly Goen

Even though the Lady Panthers opened with a rocky 1993 season, there was constant improvement. Senior Angela McKelvy led the team with an average of 58.0, and first year members, Kristen Brown, Amanda Hamilton, and Nikki Colvin did well for beginners. McKelvy was also the school's first four year district golfer.

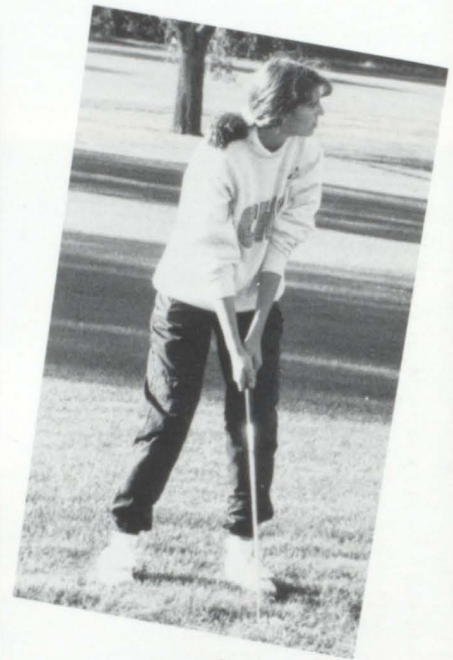

"We didn't have a winning season, but the girls were winners in many ways. Every girl improved her skills, learned the importance of practice, learned about team work and gained the competence of knowing the basics of a life long sport," said coach Sandra Denbow.

Lady Panthers Have 3-13 Season

by Mandy Ivy and Jennifer Spears

Despite having no returning seniors on the girls' varsity team this year, coach Jim Enlow approached the season with optimism due to his players' noticeable competitiveness and good work habits at early practices.

The 49-47 season opening win over Hallsville illustrated his optimistic cause. The lady Panthers held an 8-10 point lead during the second half. According to Enlow, regrouping and poise led to the win.

Inconsistent play, however, hurt the lady Panthers' season. Shooting was a problem, executing a half-court offense, and lack of aggressiveness were key factors to most of the team's losses.

The main highlight of the season was the way the girls played Hallsville in the Fayette tournament. According to Enlow that was the best offensive show of the year.

"The early part of the conference when we played against South Shelby in a very tight ball game, and later played an extremely tough Monroe City, were also highlights of the season," Enlow said. (continued on page 78)

Foul trouble hit the girls in the 40-45 loss against Macon. However, the team's press and steals led to a 40-25 win over Paris. Defense also played a big part in their 46-24 win over Mexico.

The JV girls saw a third place finish in the North Callaway tournament, a 40-37

Cons.

Ryan McKenzie and Jeremy Tuggle

The Centralia varsity boys' team lost nine seniors from last year and only had three this year. They were Jeff Jacobson (6-1 forward), Donnie Schultz (6-0 guard), and Joe Reichert (6-6 center). The Panthers had a season record of 7-18 with their first victory against North Callaway with a score of 62-53.

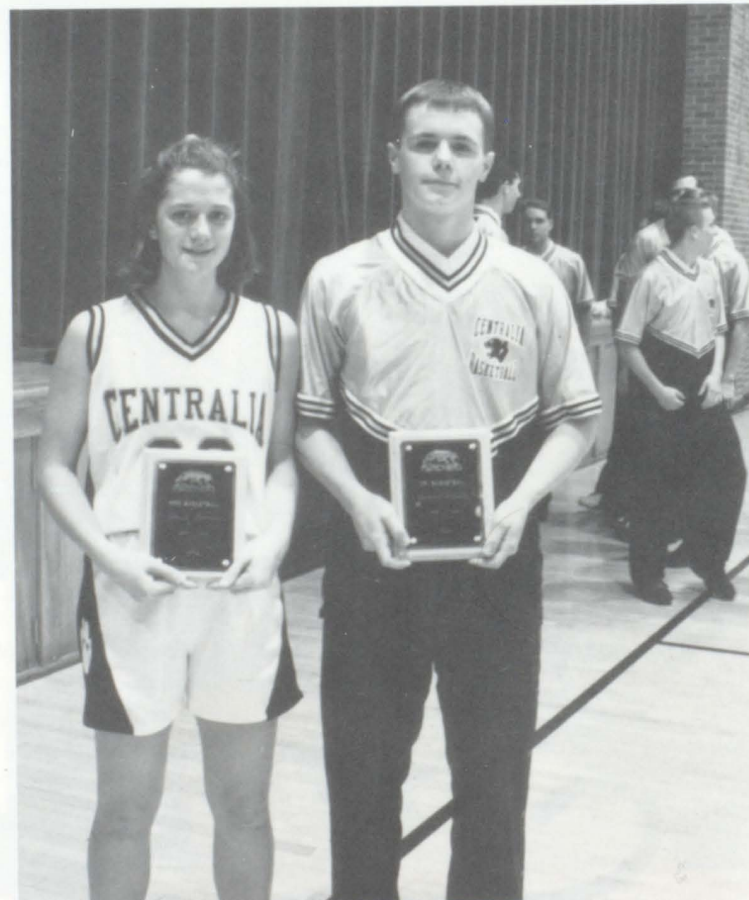

"We got off to a slow start, but after the first two or three minutes we managed to get on track," coach Bob Reeves said. "The bench played well, Clint Chapman had four steals, converting three into points, and Jared Barnes also had two of the team's eight," he said.

Free throw shooting had much to do with the fifth place finish in the Centralia Invitational, while offense and bench play were keys in the 79-64 victory over Westran.

The Panthers' first CCC win came on Courtwarming eve with a 57-54 win over South Shelby. Defense played a major role in the victory, along with Chapman's 3-pointer and Charlie Lawson's with less-than-a-minute-left-in-the-game free throws.

Junior Brandon Bryson was named to the All-District first team. He also set two school records: most three-pointers made (56) and most three pointers in a single game (7). He led the team in scoring (19 pt. average) and was 78 percent from the freethrow line. Bryson was also named to the first team All-Conference and Josh Herron was named to second team All-Conference.

Wilkerson, Kempker Go to State

by Donna Hoffman

▲Clint Wilkerson and Brian Kempker leave the school parking lot headed for the state wrestling tournament. (L. Schafer photo)

The 1993-94 wrestling team consisted of two seniors and 23 underclassmen. With the inexperience of the squad, the Panthers started the season out 0-6 against some very tough competition. With the knowledge and experience gained during the first part of the season, the team won the last four duals to end the season 4-6.

One of many highlights during the season was beating Marceline 36-35 in the last dual when they had defeated Centralia 57-18 early in the season.

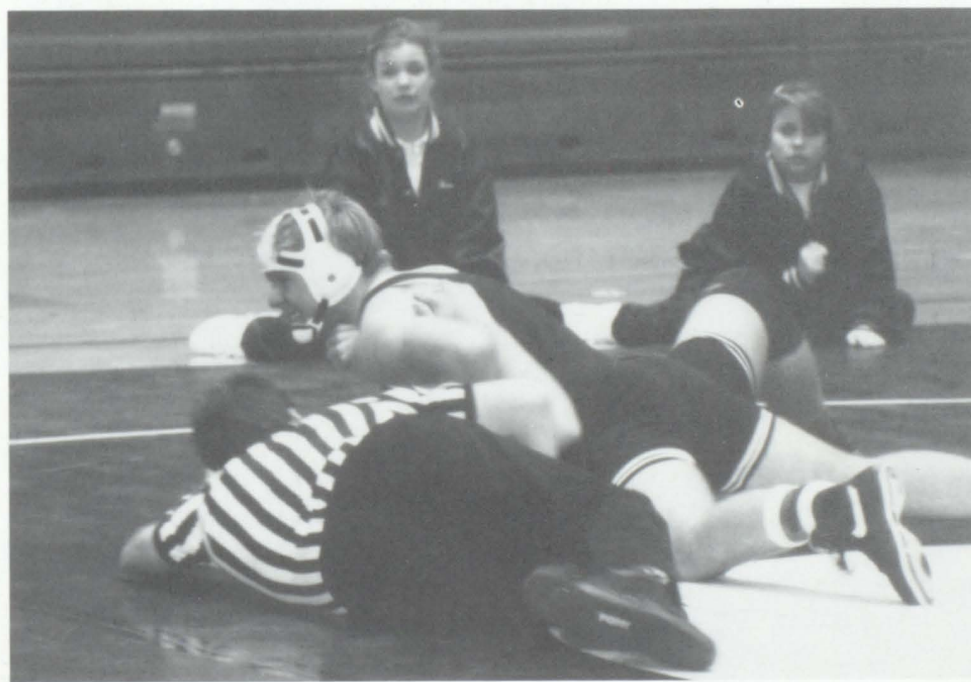

The season ended with two junior wrestlers, Clint Wilkerson (171) and Brian Kempker (130) advancing to the state tournament. Kempker lost in the first round, and Wilkerson finished third in the state with a 4-1 record and four pins. Wrestlers receiving awards were

■Mike Sommerfeld — Best Freshman wrestler

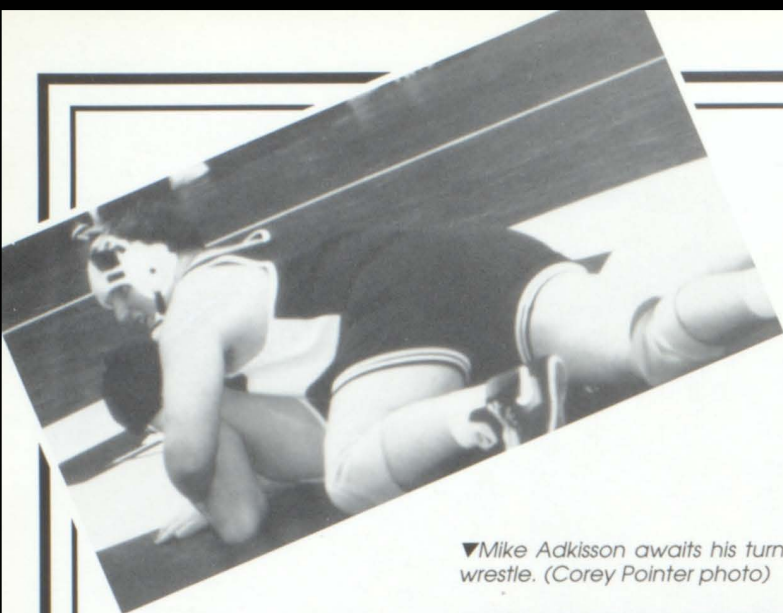

■Brian Kempker — Most Improved/Most Take-downs

■Clint Wilkerson — Most Valuable/Most Pins

"I felt that the team improved over the course of the season. The freshmen did a great job learning the techniques and filling in on the varsity," Coach Randy Wiedmaier said. "Coach Jason Lea and I expect good things out of the wrestling team in the future," he said.

Experience paid off for the Panther golfers as three returnees were of the five bound for state competition May 16 and 17. Those who competed at state were freshman Darren Adams, sophomores Rusty Dutton and Doug Quinn, junior Jared Barnes, and senior Matt McKenzie.

Despite rainy weather and a lack of practices, the golfers won the Palmyra Invitational; beat Montg. Co. and Palmyra at home; won the 1A division of the Centralia Invitational; beat S. Shelby, Sturgeon, and Fulton at home; won the S. Shelby Invitational; placed second at districts (individually Quinn won that meet); first at conference; and eighth at state.

Named to the all-conference first team were McKenzie and Quinn. Barnes was named second team all-conference, and Dutton earned honorable mention all-conference.

Panthers Wrap Up Year —

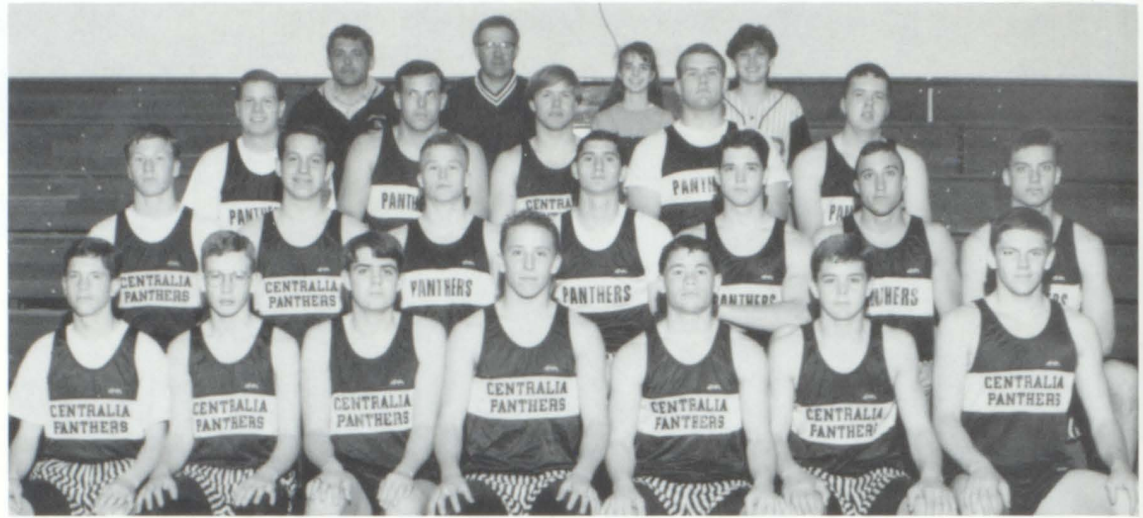

The boys' track team was young this year but had three returning state qualifiers and a district hurdler.

The Panthers finished fourth out of 10 at the Monroe City Invitational. Shot putter Joe Reichert set a school record, 51'. The Fayette Invitational saw a second place finish; sixth place was the result of the Centralia Invitational; and fourth was earned at the Cunningham Invitational in Louisiana.

While the rest of his team was competing in Louisiana, 1993 Class 2A Missouri State Discus Champion Reichert was competing in the Kansas Relay in the shot and discus.

The Panthers placed third in the Salisbury Relays and second in the five-team meet against Harrisburg, Mark Twain, S. Shelby, and Westran. They took second in the CCC meet, and districts saw a second place finish. State qualifiers were Michael Clutter (3,200-meter run), Gavin Johnson (pole vault), Reichert (discus and shot), Jeremy Tuggle (discus), Jason Windsor (300-meter hurdles), and the 800-meter relay team of Brandon Boles, Josh Herron, David Hudson, and Windsor.

Reichert retained his state discus title, Johnson finished second in the pole vault, Clutter earned third in the 3,200-meter run, Tuggle placed fifth in the discus, and Windsor finished eighth in the 300-meter hurdles.

Coach Brian Hunsaker also began this track season with a very young girls' team. Twelve of the 31 girls were freshmen, and six were returnees from last year's third place district team.

This year the team finished fourth in district, fourth in the conference, and sent one member to state.

Junior Heather Davidson medaled at state in the shot put after placing first in shot and third in discus at the conference meet and first in both at district.

According to Hunsaker, other major contributors to the girls' team were — sophomore Leesha Williams, a 300-meter hurdler, who placed fourth in conference and third in district;

— junior 800-meter runner Cassie Romine, who placed second in conference and third in district;

— sophomore Holly Sweezer, who performed well in the 400-meter dash, placed third in conference and sixth in district;

— junior high jumper Misty Mills, who placed fourth in conference and sixth in district;

— the 4x4 relay team (Stefanie McKenzie, Romine, Sweezer, and Williams) who ran well all season placed second in conference and third in district;

— the 4x8 relay team (McKenzie, Rachel Pierce, Romine, and Tracey Yund) who placed third in conference and fourth in district.

Quiz Bowl

The core of the varsity team: Emily Davis, Amy Hanneken, Kim Dobbs, Jason Vance.

The core of the junior varsity team: Teresa Decker, Garrett Brown, Damon Hombs, Matt Hartz.

Quiz bowl is a group of students who have a broad base of knowledge and compete with students from other schools to answer questions on a variety of subjects.

A quiz bowl match has four quarters. Team members answer 15 questions in the first and third quarters. The second and fourth quarters consist of 10 questions and bonus questions.

The CHS quiz bowl team consisted of 13 members: seniors Emily Davis, Kim Dobbs, Amy Hanneken, and Dawn Hasekamp; junior Brandon Hombs; sophomores Garrett Brown, Teresa Decker, and Jason Vance; and freshmen Connie Gallentine, Jennifer Goodman, Drew Hahn, Matt Hartz, Damon Hombs, and Karen Sander. Sponsors were Linda Ramsey and Larry Stickney.

Overall, the junior varsity won 7 meets and lost 4; the varsity won 2 meets and lost 10.

Student Council/AFS

by Corey Pointer

Weeks before school began this year, Stu-Co members responded to the Flood of '93 by filling sandbags in Moberly.

Members participated and organized all of the usual activities the CHS Stu-Co is noted for and attended many conferences.

At the Nov. 6 Northeast District Meeting in Jefferson City, the CHS Student Council was named president for next year. Representing CHS were 90 students and two advisors. Members attended workshops, performed a campaign skit, and listened to two noted guest speakers.

AFS weekend began with the Centralia-Monroe City basketball game, followed by an after-game dance. Ten district AFS students, their hosts, and Stu-Co members went ice-skating Saturday and gathered at AFS advisor Barb Kribbs' home in the evening. Sunday a carry-in meal was held.

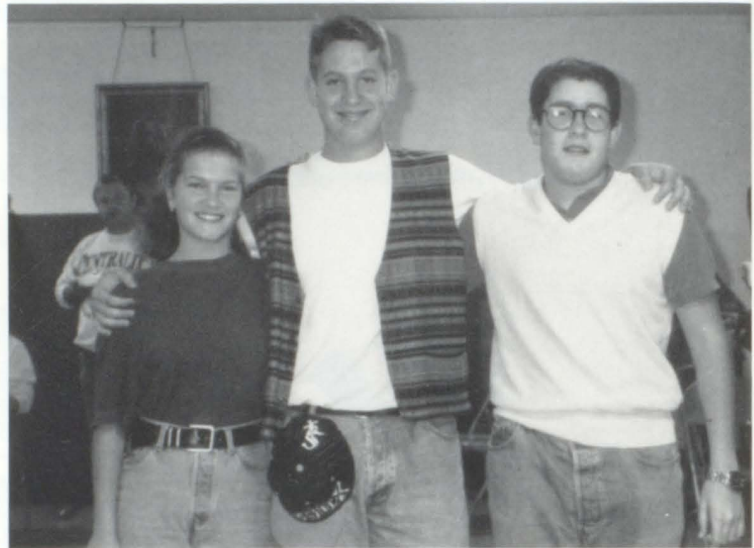

In March the officers and Mrs. Bobbie Tetley attended the MASC state convention at which the CHS council was awarded the MASC All-State Honor Council Award for the third consecutive year.

An added boost for the members this year was the April awards ceremony which is planned to be an annual event. Members were able to letter for the first time, and awards were given to outstanding members for their creativity, enthusiasm, reliability, cooperation, support, organization, punctuality, and hard work.

Future Business Leaders Chapter Organized

Future Business Leaders of America is a non-profit educational association of student members preparing for business careers. The FBLA concept was developed in 1937 by Dr. Hamden L. Forkner of Columbia University. Official sponsorship of FBLA was accepted in the fall of 1940 by the National Council for Business Education. The first high school chapter was chartered in 1942. FBLA-PBL, Inc. has a combined membership of over 270,000 active members in 12,000 chartered chapters in the United States, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, U.S. Territories and Department of Defense Dependent Schools worldwide.

The Centralia chapter of FBLA held its organizational meeting and elected officers in September. Officers for this year were Chris Denham, President; Mindi Mills, Vice-Pres.; Stacey Jesse, Sec.; Danelle Lafferty, treasurer; Heather Davidson, historian; and Stephanie Rose, parliamentarian. Sponsors were Pam Gordon and Sandy Trask.

Members competed with students from 10 other schools March 11 in Moberly. Corey Moore and Devon Neff each won a first-place trophy for impromptu speaking and shorthand respectively. Chris Denham and Stephanie Rose each received second-place medals for their entry in the poster contest. Heather Davidson received a third-place medal for public speaking. Carrie Atkinson won a door prize, and Stacey Jesse handed out trophies and medals.

Denham, Moore, Neff, and Mrs. Gordon participated in the FBLA State Leadership Conference on April 22-23 in Jefferson City. They were among 1,765 students from 195 Missouri schools who participated in the conference honoring the theme "Team up with FBLA."

All three participated in state officer elections, attended leadership workshops, and general sessions. Denham also served as a voting delegate.

Moore competed in the impromptu speaking contest and Denham competed in the shorthand contest, both having advanced from district competition.

STATUS

by Jennifer Spears

Students Taking a Tough United Stand (STATUS) was a small group but dedicated to their cause. STATUS met twice a month to plan projects, discuss upcoming events, and rehearse improvisations. Activities were planned in early September. These included extensive district-wide Red Ribbon Week activities, five fund raisers, improvisations at CBMS, and the senior citizens' prom.

Red Ribbon Week was successful. STATUS members performed presentations at the middle school. At the high school, the week began with an all-school assembly, where "Tony and Winfred" of Columbia spoke to students about self-esteem and its connection to substance abuse. STATUS sponsored a "Breakfast party" for the homeroom with the highest percentage of participants during Red Ribbon Week. In the high school parking lot before the home football game, the high school and middle school groups tied red ribbons on all cars. In memory of all those who had died in drunk driving accidents, red and white balloons were released during the pregame.

Plans for the Senior Citizens' Prom began in November, and the end results paid off in March. Approximately 50 door prizes were collected by STATUS members. STATUS members decorated the cafeteria, donated and served the refreshments, registered the guests for door prizes, and crowned the king and queen.

Guests and students danced to the music of C & H, a local band. Many compliments and thank yous were received.

Seventeen FFA members attended Camp Rising Sun during public speaking week, June 28-July 2. College professors instructed classes in speech writing, communications, and public speaking. Campers also had time for skiing, volleyball, basketball, badminton and archery.

In August the group placed first in the field crop division at the Missouri State Fair. In October, 10 first year members and 15 members were welcomed into FFA at the Greenhand Initiation and Chapter Degree ceremony. Then in November 10 members, adviser Don Gates, and principal James Head attended the 66th National FFA Convention in Kansas City.

Several members attended the Missouri FFA Convention. Dwight Hoffman received the State FFA Degree (Jeff Gates and Jake Schnarre earned that honor last year). In January nine members attended the Greenhand Motivational Conference. During FFA Week, members had a chili supper/FFA-YFA basketball tournament, set up displays all over town showcasing activities, held a faculty/staff appreciation barbecue, and attended a Mizzou basketball game.

Also in February a team placed second in the State Pork Quiz Bowl. In April eight teams competed at district contests and sent four of those to compete at state. Other activities included monthly meetings, the trap shoot, popcorn sales at football/basketball games, fruit sales, and judging.

National Honor Society

by Molly Goen

In addition to the 15 two year members, the Prairie Queen Chapter of the National Honor Society initiated 24 new members this year.

Service projects NHS performed this year were making fruit baskets for the elderly, helping with a Red Cross blood drive, selling basketball programs, and NHS will also hand out programs at commencement.

Future Teachers of America is a chapter involved in many activities. One of this year's projects included sponsoring a kiss-the-pig contest during Homecoming week. Persons who had the most money at the end of the week had to kiss a pig in front of the student body.

During National Education Week each member was given a chance to cadet teach for a day with the teacher of his/her choice.

Our club visited Chance Elementary School to look at new technology since members attended school there. FTA then talked to the students about high school.

Some members ran for offices at the district and state meetings. Jennifer Greathouse ran for state president at the state meeting located on the MU campus. Jason Grace was district historian and Devon Neff ran for vice president at the district meeting in Cairo.

The chapter had 35 active cadet teachers throughout the year.

ART CLUB

by Ryan McKenzie

Art Club held many events this year. In the fall members sponsored the fifth annual Arts and Activities Day in the park. Some activities included tie-dying, face painting, and candle dipping.

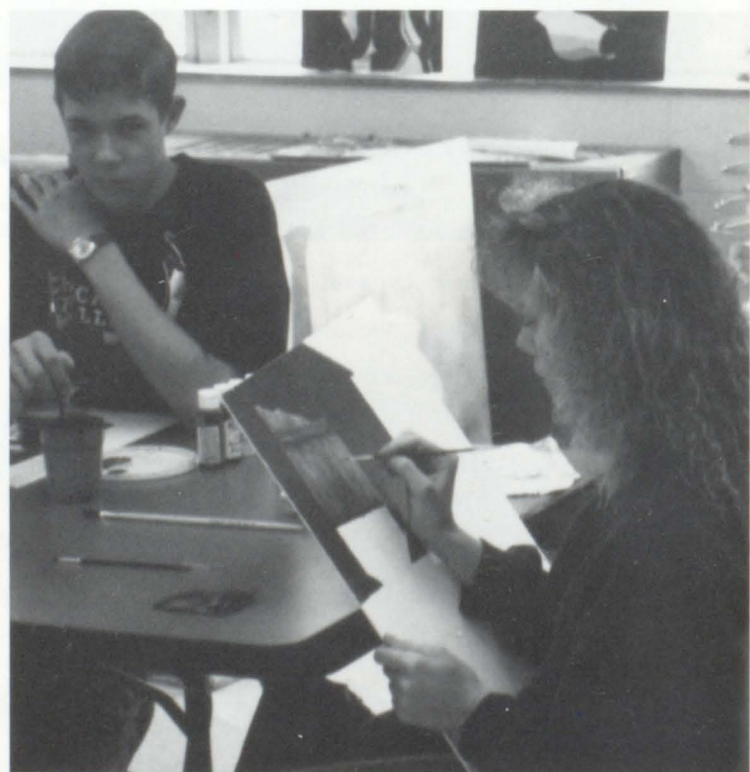

Members also entered the second annual CCC art show in February. Chad Getzlaff, Jeni Mears, Elinnda Sexton, Elisha Sexton, and Kristen Sykes returned home with first and second place awards.

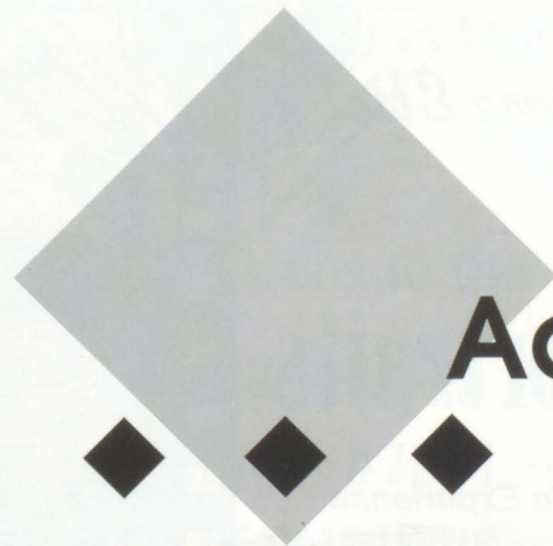

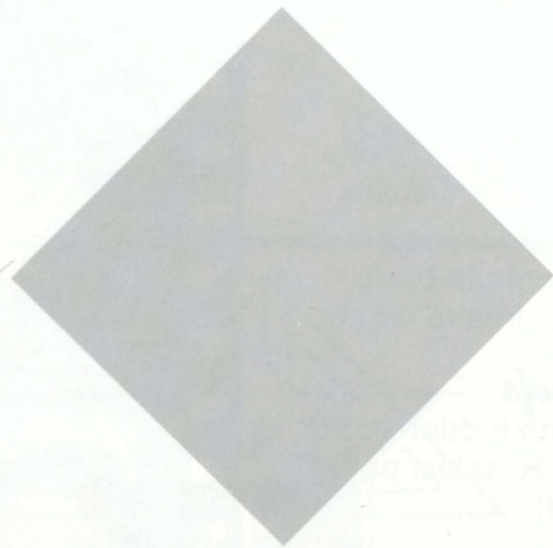

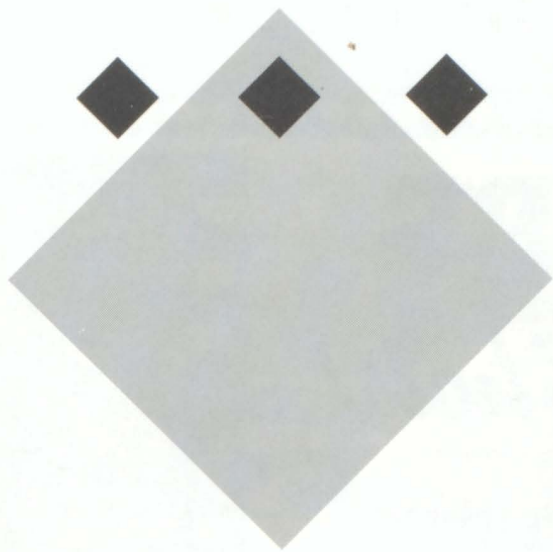

The club also held its first art auction this spring in conjunction with Fine Arts night. All auction proceeds went to the art scholarship fund.

Typography Notes

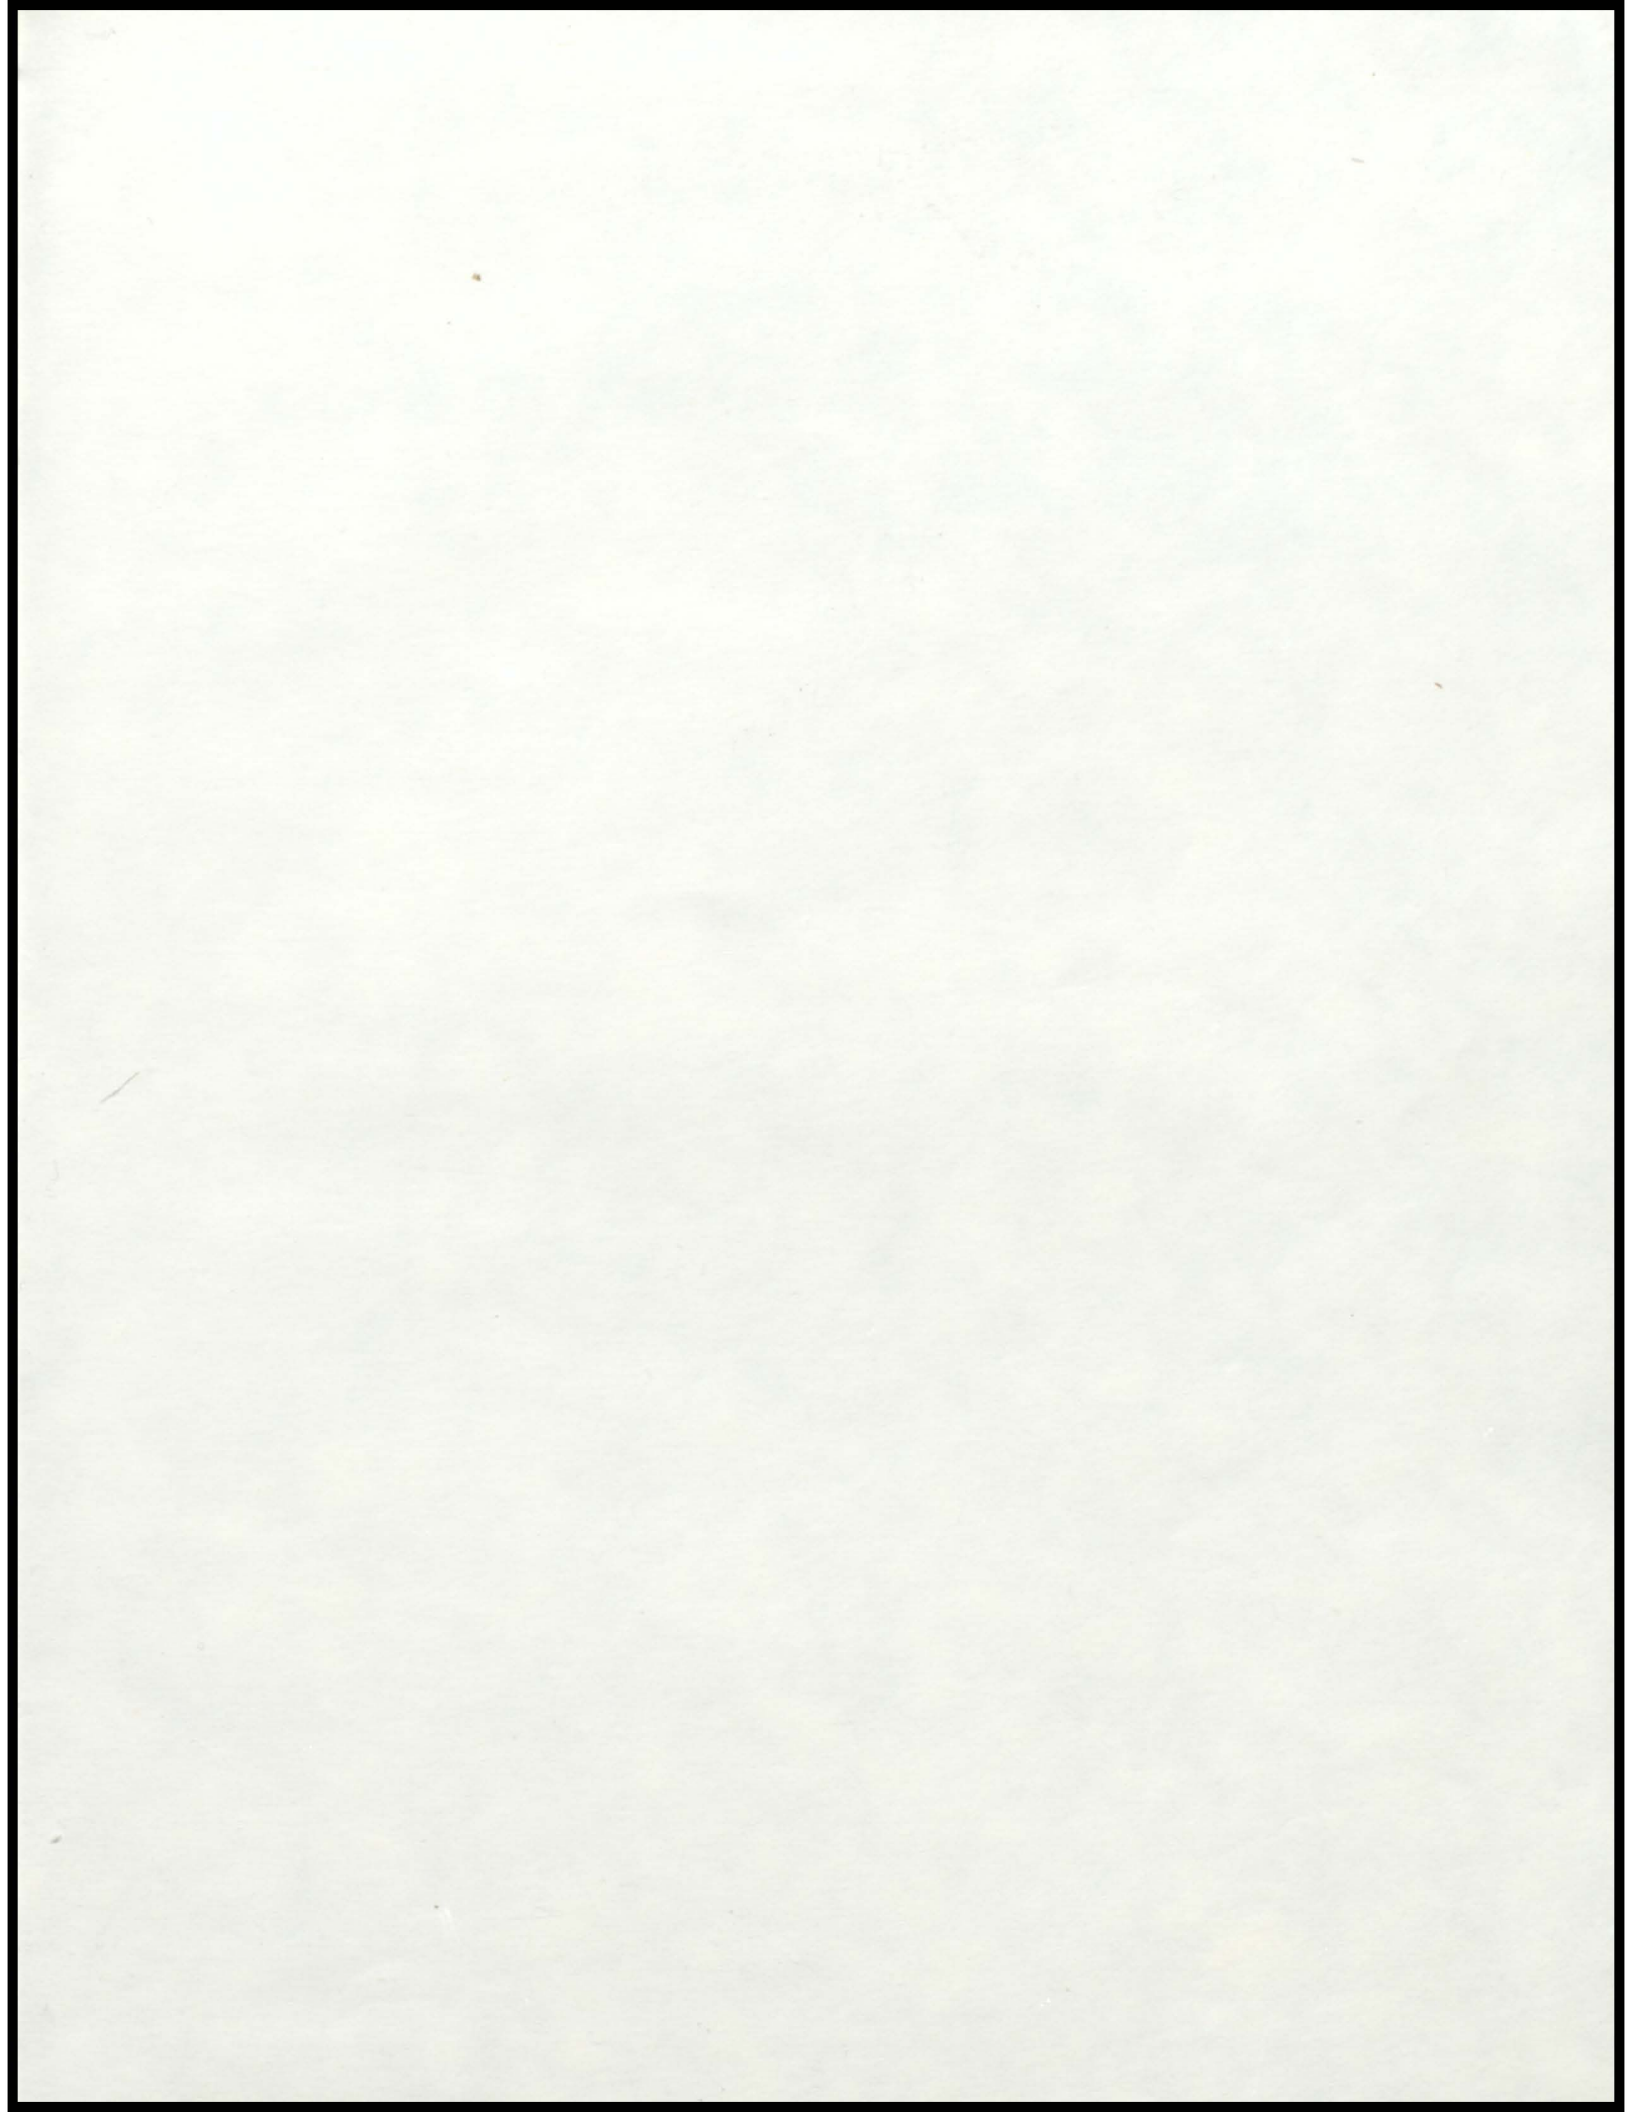

A wide range of type styles were used. All body copy was set in 10 point. Captions were set in 8 point. Headings were set in 18, 24, or 30 point.

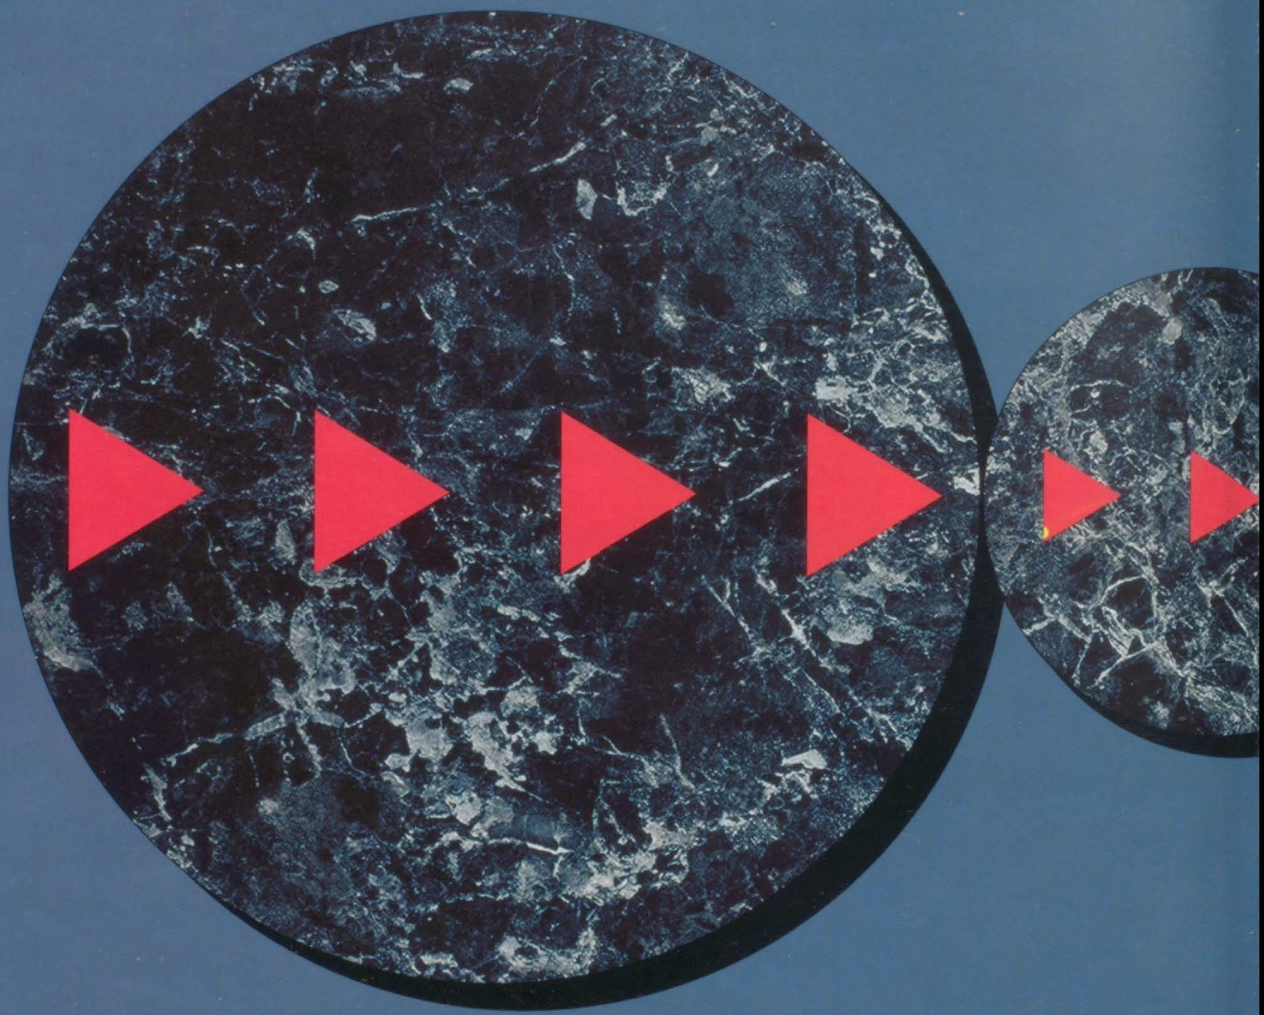

Design Notes

The paper stock is 115 (D) Signature Gloss; one flat was 4-color, and one flat was designed for spot color. The cover material is 701 permacote with a Smyth sewn binding. This was a company mounted book with all spreads sent to the company camera ready.

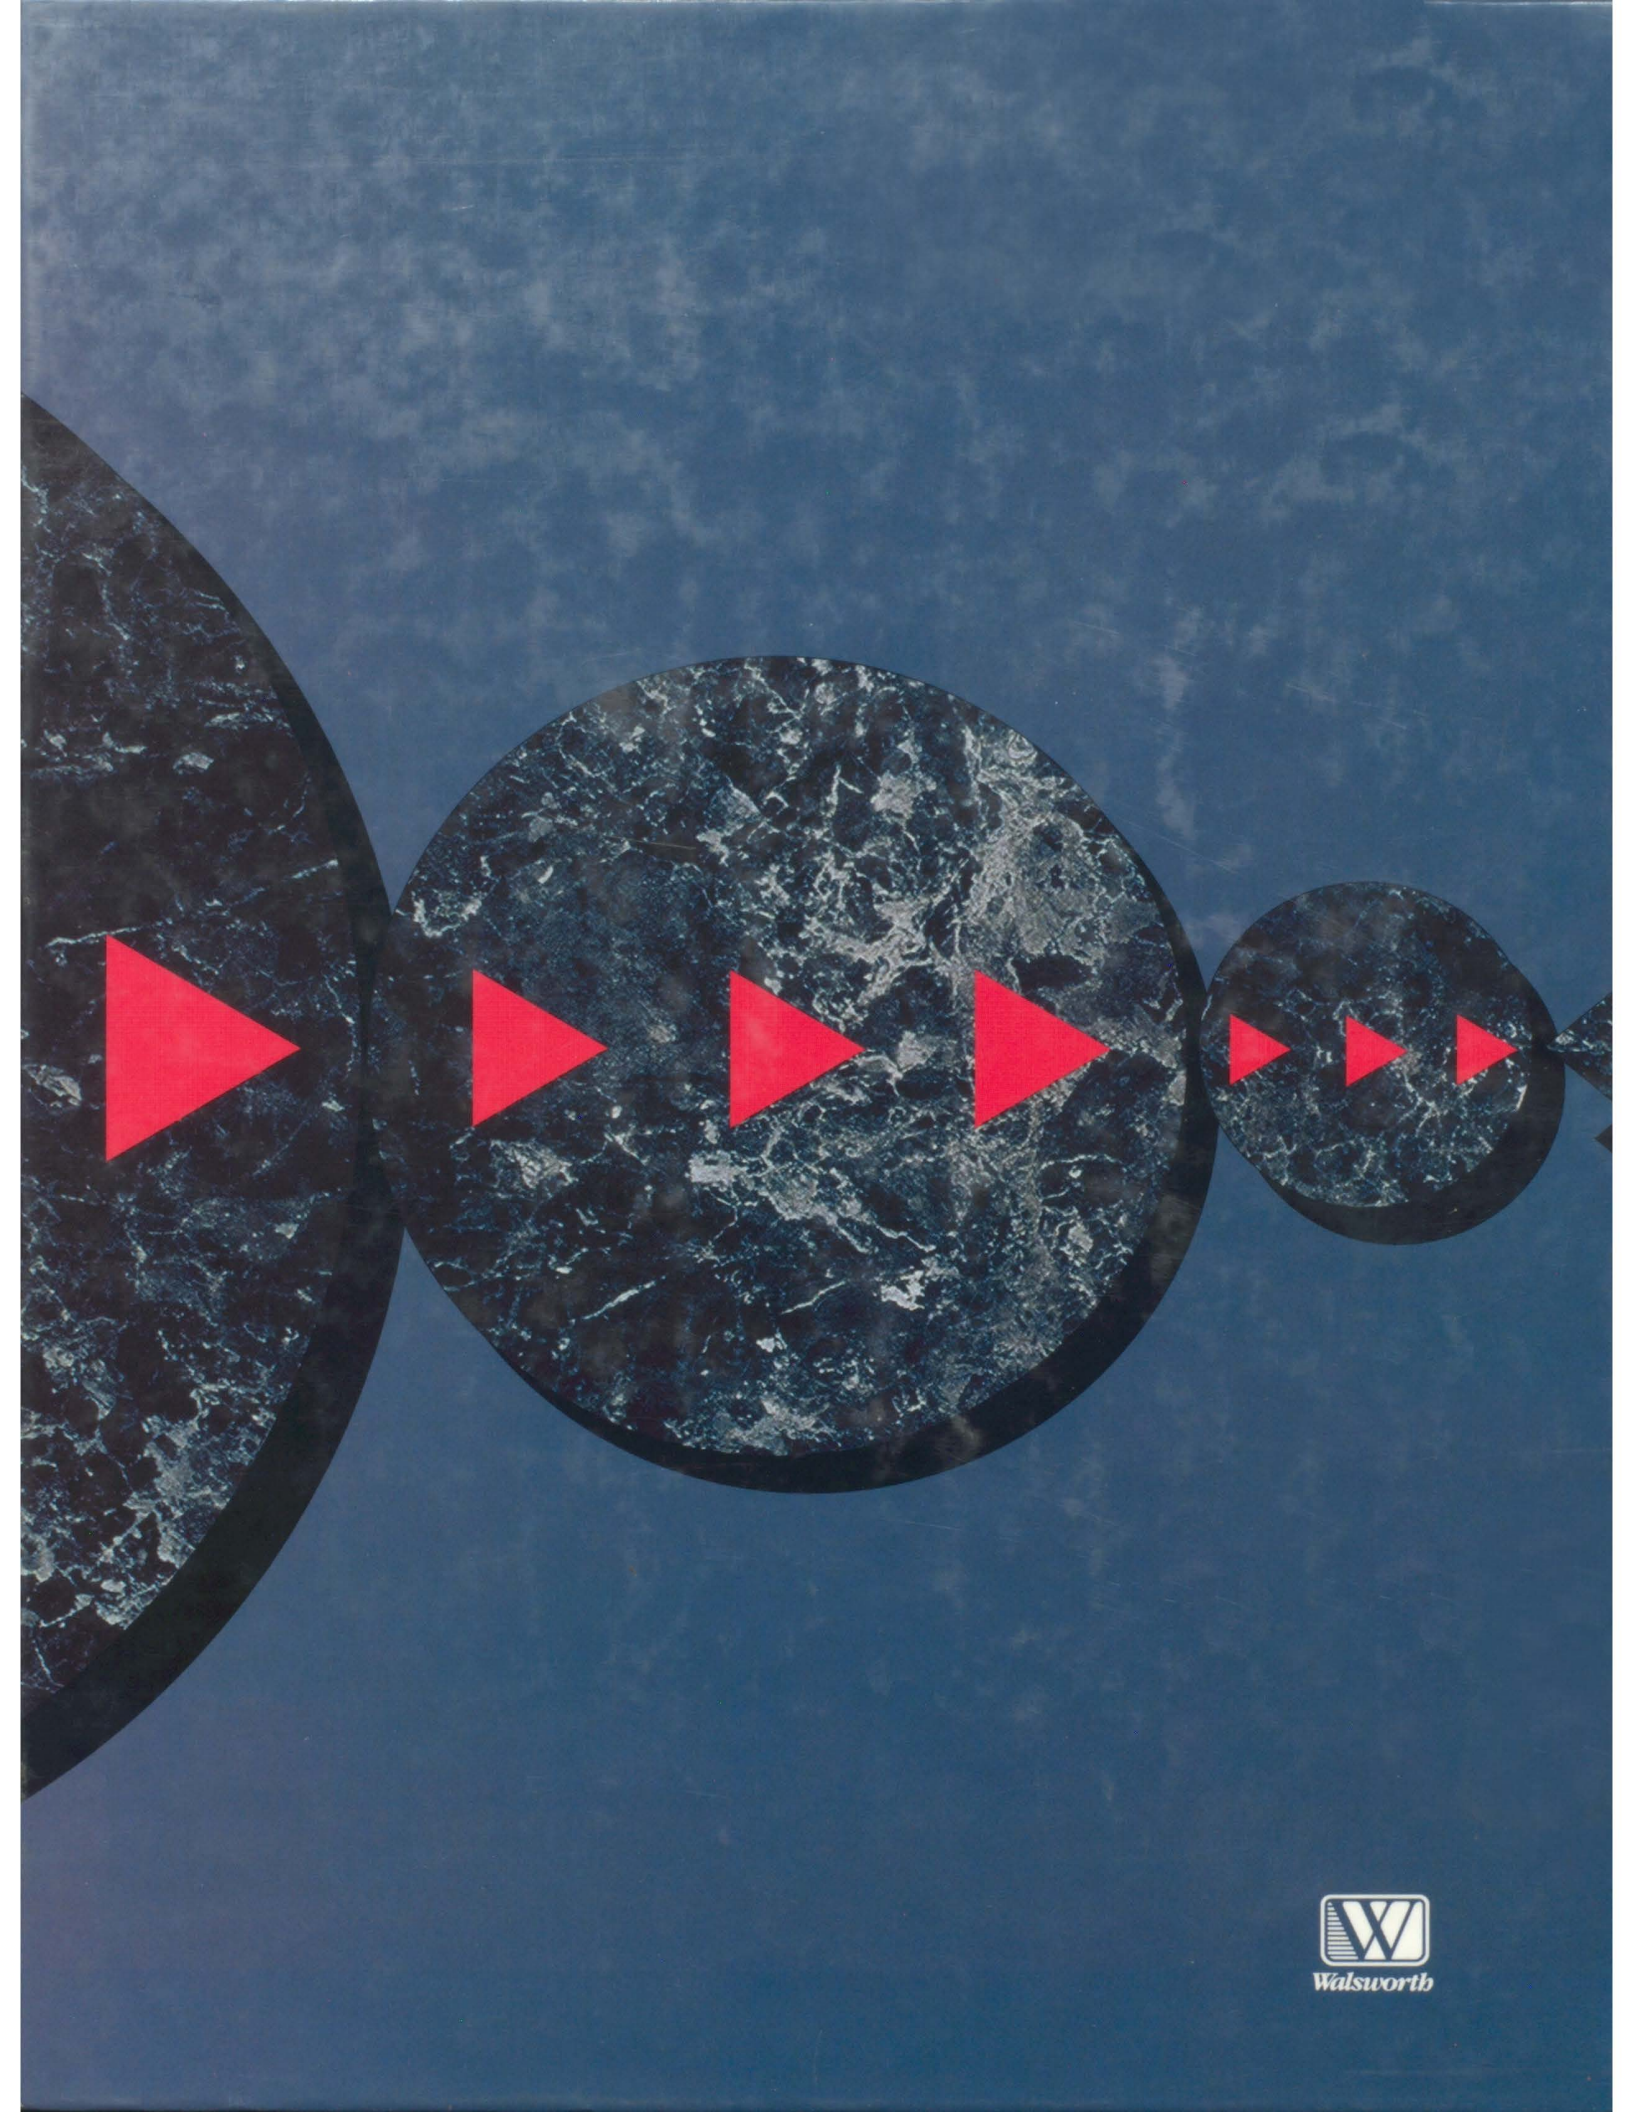

Special Thanks to

Dean Patrick of the Mexico Ledger, the Centralia Fireside Guard, Lifetouch Photography, parents, teachers, and students who loaned us pictures when ours didn't turn out or when a staff photographer didn't show up; to students and teachers who cooperated in letting us retake pictures, sometimes during class periods; and to the businesses, parents, and Board of Education for placing ads or sponsoring pages in this year's book.
