HOMECOML2005

"There's No Place Like Rome," was the Homecoming theme this year. Traditionally, Centralia High School students competed in float building. The junior class took first place, seniors took second, sophomores third, and freshmen fourth. Student Council first vice president Margie England was in charge of Homecoming week.

Students showed their spirit throughout Homecoming week as they participated in the dress up days. Thursday night was the annual Flash Light Parade. It started at 8:00 p.m. in the high school parking lot. When the parade reached its end, Centralia fans came back to the high school to the bonfire.

School was not in session on Friday, but that does not mean there was not anything to do. The Homecoming parade started at 1:30 p.m. The parade marshals were Sonny and Annette Tucker.

The big game against the Blair Oaks Falcons started at 7:00 p.m. It was a devastating loss at 1456, but Panther pride was still high.

'05 Madrigal Leaves a Legacy

As the doors to the 21 st annual CHS Madrigal Dinner opened, the sounds of joyous singing, heckling, and silly British accents could be heard, immediately followed by the sound of babies crying.

The latter was aresult of this year's madrigal play premise, "Sleepless in the Castle," in which the king and queen become the proud parents of "two twin sons." The king and queen get little sleep and decide to search for a royal regent to fill in for them while they get some rest. They enlist the help of the jester to question the prospective candidates and help decide who would be the best "Royal Regent."

The play took place in three parts, with a three course dinner served during the performance. The play performance featured King Marcus II, Queen Tina I, Mertonsire, The Jester, and guest starring Prince A, Prince B, and Prince S, played by Marcus Younger, Tina Gorchos, Travis Sydow, Josh Pauley, Peter Barnes, Lucas Stroppel, and Justine Sipe, respectively. concerts by the mixed choir, concert choir, and chamber choir followed, under the direction of Mrs. Leah Rolfson. Rolfson is the fifth of five teachers to carry on the madrigal tradition, and she ha d some big shoes to fill.
"I was scared to death," Rolfson said of continuing the tradition. "But Mr [Scott] Long and the students were an incredible help. I learned abunch, and I really look forward to the many more productions to come."

The students are looking forward to next year's madrigal with high hopes. With the seniors leaving and a new generation of actors, the 22 nd annual madrigal should be as entertaining as ever.

It's been real. It's been fun...

We asked some seniors r about this year's madrigal and memories from past madrigals. Some of them were involved every year they were eligible. Here's what they had to say.

Looking back

Marcus  Younger

"I'm really gonna miss the traditions we made. Especially singing 'Show me the way to go home' while stumbling down the hallway after the show."

Lucas Stroppel

"I think Madrigal was my favourite part of high school. I feel like it brought us all closer as a choir."

Elizabeth Sims

"I'll never forget this last year of madrigal when all the seniors cried during silent night, and then we had to get our picture taken together after all that crying."

Travis Sydow

"I feel like it gave me an opportunity to enjoy high school. So much of high school is about set rules. Madrigal gave us a chance to do our own thing. A chance to be a part of a legacy, and to leave one of our own".

Josh Pauley

"I bawled. I mean, I've been doing this for four straight years, and this was my last time! I just couldn't believe it was over."

Courtwarming Queen and King 2006 Ashley Bruce and Harry Decker

Courtwarming 2006 was held the week of January 23-27. This year's theme was "Ever After." Spirit days kicked off on Monday by anyone willing to participate wearing their favorite jersey, Tuesday was hero day, Wednesday was fairy tale day, and Thursday was class color day. Seniors wore pink, juniors wore green, sophomores wore blue, freshmen wore orange, and teachers wore yellow. On Friday students wore their Courtwarming t -shirts.

This year Student Council decided to include wall

Supermen.  Mr. Student Body 2006.

The 16th annual Mr. Student Body competition took place April 7 at 7:00 P.M. in the CHS cafeteria. The night opened with candidates "flying" on to the stage for the opening dance and escorted out in style to close the competition. This year's winner was sophomore Gabe Martinez followed by Andy Spurling, Dane Gudde, with a tie between Jardyn Angell and Jake Beasley.

The candidates for MSB 2006 were seniors Jake Beasley, Mr. Baseball; Dane Gudde, Mr. NHS; Josh Pauley, Mr. Band; Zach Pemberton, Mr. Senior Class; and Eric Stout, Mr. Student Council; junior Nathan Mahieu, Mr. FFA; sophomores Jardyn Angell, Mr. Basketball; Kyle Bryson, Mr. Sophomore Class; Gabe Martinez, Chamber Choir; freshmen Eli Beasley, Mr. Track; and Dalton Reeves, Mr. Golf.

Emcees for the evening were Student Council first vice-president Margie England and Mr. Student Body 2005 Tyler Gramke. The night's entertainment was two duets, one sung by Jayci Angell and Jessica Ryan; the other sung by Courtney Mitchell and Kim Brown.

This year's judges were Lori Meyers (Martinsburg Bank and Trust), John Glennon (Jostens), Shelly Becker (Zimmer Radio Group), and Michelle Linn (KMIZ Channel 17).

Escorts were Jayci Angell, Ashley Bruce, Shayla Cox, Lynzie Douglass, Jenna Drake, Markie England, Dana Gordy, Lindsey Haverstick, Jessica Johnson, Bethany Lewis, Glessie Reese, Jessica Ryan, Whitley Schopp, Elizabeth Sims, and Megan Wheeling.

This was yet anouther "super" year of MSB.

1. Mahieu feeds his hero, Pac Man.
2. The entertainers of the evening: Courtney Mitchell and Kim Brown sing "I need a Hero" as Jayci Angell and Ryan sing "Walk Away Joe."
3. Martinez sings about all of his heros as Stout dances like his.
4. Pemberton shows everyone why he should be voted "best dressed" of the senior class, Ryan and Bryson strut their stuff on the stage, and Alex Blackwell interviews E. Beasley (Cajun man).
5. Pemberton introduces himself, and Spurling and his family dance like his heroes, the Wiggles
6. England, Martinez, and Gramke pose at the end of yet anouther sucessful MSB.
7. Bryson introduces himself to the audience, Gudde explains the responsibility of being NHS president, and the top five, J. Beasley, Jardyn Angell, Gudde, Martinez, and Spurling, wait for the final results at the end of competition.
8. All of the "heroes" come on stage for the opening dance, and Spurling, Mitchell, and Brian Beck cheer on the wrestling team.
9. Stout introdces himself to the audience, and Spurling begs his mom for a puppy as he makes his introduction.
10. J. Beasley (Brian Fellows) and Matt Ford talk about a "donkey."

Vocal Music

With a new year of vocal music comes new songs, new choir members, and this year, a new perspective. Heading up the vocal music department this year is director Leah Rolfson, and some changes have been made. The 2005-2006 vocal music repertoire consisted of some old favorites and some new additions, including choreographed dances, guest performers, and an interesting take on some traditional musical numbers. Guest performers included junior Samantha Richman, who accompanied the CHS concert choir on violin dur-

During their time in employment, the students learned job skills of an occupation of their choice. Students were expected to find employment within the Centralia school district, which gave them an understanding of the work force. The students also worked in the classroom to improve their job skills and learned how to survive in the working world.

Industrial Technology

Industrial technology classes consist of principles of technology, Woodworking I, advanced woods, and Drafting I. Principles of technology provides basic information and hands on experience in drafting, woodworking, welding, electricity and construction.

Woods I allows students to work with types of woods and shop machines. Students have the opportunity to build clipboards, checker boards, and woodturning projects.

In advanced woods students learn proper care and maintenance of power equipment, types and uses of wood joints, and cabinet making.

Drafting I is divided into two areas: mechanical and architectural. Mechanical drawing students learn about orthographic projection, pictorial and pattern drawing.
Architectural drawing students design a house and draw complete house plans.

Language Arts

CHS offered nine language arts classees. Language I students read fiction, biography, drama,poetry and science. They also worked on correct usage of grammar, mechanics and sentence structure. Language II students studied world literature: the classics in mythology, fiction, non-fiction, short stories poetry, drama and novels. They also wrote several essays throughout the year. Language III, which was offered for dual credit this year, focused on writing skills and American literature. Language IV was also offered for dual credit. Students started the year writing personal essays, and second semester they wrote research papers. English Literature (dual credit offering) students studied the anglo-saxon to current authors. Basic speech (dual credit) students developed the skills to stand before an audience and make a speech with confidence, vocal effectiveness and the right body action. Basic drama students developed acting skills through skits, plays, assemblies, and charades. Reading Recovery was for students who needed to improve on their reading and comprehension skills.

Students begin their bilingual adventures in Spanish l where they work mainly on conversational skills. They also get a multicultural experience learning all the Latin American countries and listening to the many excursions of Mrs. Teresa Thrasher, their welltraveled profesora. Moving on to Español dos, the students learn more about the writing and grammatics of the language. These students do a variety of projects including an exciting group commercial over a fictional Spanish product. Students in all three courses have the opportunity to expand their knowledge of the culture by doing the infamous extra credit projects. With these projects students can make a Spanish plato de comida (food dish) or create a pinata, casscarones, balero, or other Spanish handicraft. Students who are highly interested in Spanish move on to Espaniol lll. In Spanish lll students take a field trip to El Maguey and World Market in Columbia where they practican sus espanol. They also celebrate Cinco de Mayo with Chance Elementary third graders by teaching them the history and cultural aspects of Mexico. Overall, the Spanish classes at Centralia High School are a thriving, eyeopening, multi-cultural community within themselves.

CHS Mathematics

Following a banner year of MAP testing scores, the 2005-06 math classes have leaped back into another hard-working year, complete with role reversals and preparations for another round of MAP testing with new students.

Courses offered this year are as follows: pre-algebra, taught this year by Seth Woods, consists of an introduction to the world of arithmetic concepts through use of variable expressions and equations. Other courses taught by Woods include pre-calculus, a course touching on advanced algebra and trigonometry; and calculus, emphasizing the use of technology and consisting of both differential and integral calculus and their applications. Algebra I, taught by Nathan Gordon, consists of single variable equations, exponents, linear equations and other intermediate/advanced math subjects, and is offered to those who have passed prealgebra with a C - average or above. Gordon also teaches consumer math, consisting of basic math skills that apply to daily living, and one course of geometry.

Geometry, taught cooperatively by Elizabeth Gilman and Gordon, utilizes direct and indirect reasoning to discover relations of points, lines, planes, and angles, and also includes the introduction of coordinate geometry.

Algebra II, also taught by Gilman, provides students with an in depth knolwedge of algebraic techniques and concepts that are essential for advanced math and science courses. Seth Woods. (Josh Pauley photo)

Later in the year, Henke took his dual credit United States Survey class to the battlefield to assist with an archaeological dig.

Three social studies students were awarded $$ 100$ prizes from the VFW for their Voice of Democracy essays. They were Collin Kehl, Jessica Ryan. Kalyn Trentham.

Social studies classes offered at CHS this year were American history, world history, American government, geography, and United States history: a survey. Instructors were Josh Dorr, Mike Hann, and Joe Henke.

Science Classes

Seven science offerings were available to CHS students this year. Biology was offered to sophomores only. This course covers the areas of cell structure and functions, genetics, human biological systems, ecology and characteristics of life. General chemistry was available to juniors and seniors. This class is an introductory chemistry course covering topics including scientific method, measurement and the metric system, atomic theory, chemical names and formulas, balanced chemical equation, introductory stoichometry, chemical bonding, solution chemistry and concentration, periodic relations among the elements, electron configuration, and gas laws.

Advanced biology is available to juniors and seniors. It is designed to reinforce the concepts taught in general biology and build on those toward a college level experience. The areas of concentration include genetic action and expression, evolution, cell anatomy and physiology, energy transformation and basic ecological relationships. Advanced biology may be offered as a dual credit course.

Advanced chemistry is available to juniors and seniors. Advanced chemistry is a survey course in college chemistry. Emphasis is placed on balancing chemical equations, chemical stoichometry, thermochemistry and introductory thermodynamics, reaction rate, chemical equilibrium and biochemistry.

Anatomy and physiology is available to juniors and sentiors. The class covers the interaction and structure of human cells, tissues, organs and organ systems. Cell structure and physiology, introductory biochemistry, tissue structure, organs, organ systems of the human body, terminology, names and functions of a large number of structures, muscles, and bones are studied. Dissection of cats helps students learn the anatomical structures of humans.

Physical science is offered to freshmen. Physical science is an introductory class which acquaints students with elementary principles of chemistry and physics.

Applied physical science is also offered to freshmen. This is a basic level class that acquaints students with the basic principles of chemistry and physics.

Physical education students participated in many activities this year including weight lifting, archery, table tennis, floor hockey, and dancing. The were taught safety skills for weight lifting, badminton, tennis, soccer, volleyball, and pickle ball. They swam, bowled, golfed, were taught wellness techniques, nutrition, how to properly develop muscle, strength, and flexibility. Aerobic conditioning was also part of the curriculum.

HEALTH

This course included exercise, fitness, nutrition, human development, human relationships, family health, family history, diseases, dynamics, development disabilities, issues in sexuality, self-defense, and understanding emotions. Instructor Jill Angell arranged for many guest speakers to go with the lessons she taught.

Computer technology students learn in a hands-on environment with technology personnel in the school district.

Software development students learn web-based programs and move on to stand-along applications. The main focus is on using Java language in an object oriented programming environment.

Computer tech. classes are limited to two students per class, and software development class is limited to 12 students.

This year's "techies" are Ana Hartz, Nathan Mahieu, Whitney Martin, Liz Powell, Rick Hess, Jake Gudde, Sarah Stickney, Ethan Miller, and Dustin Noonan. They are under the guidance of Larry Stickney and Seth Henry.

Every year the counselors are kept very busy by a steady strain of events. The first thing the counselors must take care of each year is student schedules and classes. Counselors also, take charge of all testing within the school. The many tests that are administered are the Terra Nova, MAP, CPS, PLAN, ASVAB, PSAT and AP exam. The counselors help prepare students for the ACT test.

Sophomores meet in Panther Pathways with area business professionals three times each year.

Juniors job shadow to receive a taste of their chosen career field.

Seniors have interviews with Mrs. Betsy Timmerberg and also with area business professionals to practice for scholarship and other job professionals. Additionally, seniors are provided with many scholarship applications throughout the year.

The counselors are an integral part of the function at Centralia High school.

Class advisor Linda Schafer gives her two cents.

This year the publications class has been hard at work. Publications students are responsible for organizing, designing, creating, and selling the annual yearbook. They work closely with Walsworth Publishing Company and have three deadlines to meet throughout the school year. At the beginning of the year, the students choose the pages of the yearbook that they wany to design, and throuhgout the year these pages are the students' responsibility. This includes gathering information for a news story, talking to club sponsors, organizing statistics for sports pages, gathering photographs, and taking photographs.

After the yearbook is completely finished, it is sent to the Walsworth plant for publication. The yearbook returns the fall of the following school year, a fall delivery, because special events such as prom, commencement, and track statistics are included.

The cost of the yearbook is determined by the number of advertisements the students sell at the beginning of the school year. Before students pick the pages they would prefer to design, local businesses are organized and chosen for adver 6 tisement sales. The more advertisements that the students sell the first quarter, the less money the yearbook costs students.

Along with publishing the yearbook, the students are responsible for a monthly newspaper, The Panther Tale. This newspaper is written by the students themselves and organized in a newspaper format. Students write stories on local, national, and world-

Art Club

Members participated in many community activites throughout the school year. Art club meetings were held the second Tuesday of every month in the art room.

Members started the year off by painting pumpkins for a silent auction in October and helping with the Knights of Columbus activity day. They helped numerous times throughout the year by making posters for local events. During the Christmas holidays they painted ornaments for the teachers. Finally, in April they hosted an easter egg hunt for elementary school children.

This year's sponsor was Doris Wood with officers: Taylor Salisbury, president; Travis Thurmond, vice president; and Emily Dollens, secretary.

According to Wood, art club member Justine Sipe won the 2006 Congressional High School Art Competition, "An Artistic Discovery." The competition is coordinated by members of the U.S. House of Representatives. Sipe won in Missouri's Ninth District, and her artwork will hang in the tunnel of the capitol for one year. Her work is replacing Sam Richman's. Sipe will also be invited to attend the ribbon-cutting ceremony in Washington, DC.

This is the third year straight that a CHS art student has won.

Future Buinnese Leaders of America

FBLA this year suffered some hard blows; however, they seemed to pull it all together and have a decent year. Starting the year off with two new advisors, things were a bit challenging. The decrease in membership was also hard for the club.

However, seven members attended district competition Feb. 24 in Otterville. Their results follow:

FOCLA

FCCLA stands for family, career, and community leaders of America. Led by advisor Kathy Brown, students were able to help the community in a variety of ways: collecting books for Hurricane Katrina victims, donating books to the children's hospital, bringing suckers and safety tips to elementary school children at Halloween, and picking up trash at the end of the year.

FCCLA met the second Monday and fourth Tuesday of each month. In addition to assisting others, members attended a region leadership conference in October, provided breakfast for teachers in February, and attended the state leadership conference in April.

Key Club is a student organization that works closely with the Kiwanis and the community by participating in numerous community service projects throughout the year, such as helping with the food bank, assisting a blood drive, fundraisers, hosting a Mothers' Day breakfast, and sponsoring a track and field day for grades 3-6.

Key Club not only teaches students how they can help out in their community, but it also teaches leadership skills and personal enrichment.

With the help of advisor Joe Henke, this club stayed busy throughout the year.

National

 Honor
Society

Despite popular opinion, National Honor Society is more than a simple honor roll. National Honor Society serves to honor students who demonstrate excellence in the areas of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. This year NHS inducted 23 new members on Nov. 1, 2005, in the CHS cafeteria. The 23 new members, along with the 27 existing members, participated in a fruit plate service project where members gathered together to make fruit plates and then delivered them to local elderly citizens. Second semester NHS seniors also hosted a local blood drive held Jan. 11, 2006, at the First Christian Church; the Red Cross collected 50 pints of blood that day.

2005-06 Quiz Bowl

For the 2005-2006 CHS quiz bowl team, the year was one of challenges and achievements. The team's tinacity is a force to be reckoned with, and their constant quest to challenge themselves carried them to a second-place seed at CCC conference competition.

This outstanding accomplishment comes as no surprise, following the team's stellar performance in the regular season, losing only one match. Following their success at conference, the team attended district competition on April 8, where they finished the year. Varsity team members Taylor Salisbury and Andrew Robinson were chosen for all conference competition, and Salisbury was also chosen for all tournament competition in Monroe City.

Council

Student Council helps with many programs throughout the school year starting with a summer kick off meeting for officers and other members to plan the year. Student Council members organize Homecoming, Courtwarming, Santa's Workshop, and Mr . Student Body, and they hosted a teachers' breakfast in the spring.

This year Stu-Co held a spirit competition between classes by giving each class points for participating in specific activities. Students earned points for their class by participating in activities like dressup days for Homecoming and Courtwarming.

Each class also competed by building a float and decorating their assigned hallways.

Stu-Co concluded the year with the 20062007 elections for new offficers.

The jv baseball team, headed by Coach Joe Henke, had an interesting year. This year the team had to battle not only their opponents but also the rain. The first four games of the season were canceled; this drained the team's morale. The beginning of the season was a bit challenging due to the weather and the team's frustration. However, the boys soon pulled together and gained some much needed victories. The boys finally came together and made the season enjoyable. By this year's preview, it is obvious that that the junior varsity players will more than make-up for the seniors who are leaving.

The Panther baseball team had some adversity to face in districts. Seeded eighth they had to pull out a win the first game against the first seed St. Francis Borgia. They were unsuccessful.

With a new coaching staff this year, things started off slowly for the varsity baseball team. Like the junior varsity, the first four games of the season were rained out. The team's morale was down, but after

The varsity team got off to a good start by coming from a 9-0 deficit to defeat Macon 11-10. They then played extremely well in the Monroe City tournament, and took second place. The lady Panthers struggled a little toward the end of the season, but then started playing their best ever down the stretch through districts and sectionals. "This was an awesome group of young ladies that have a lot to be proud of," coach Jill Angell said.

Highlights of the season were winning the district title for the third year in a row, beating Clark Co. in eight innings 1-0, beating Eugene in the sectional game, and five over the fence home runs by Dana Gordy, Kayla Stoddard, Erin VanMaanen, and Jordyn Tolliver-2. A low point in the season was losing a valued friend and teammate, Danielle Williams. It was a real blow to the entire team. Another low point was losing the quarterfinal game to Highland after leading 5-2.

The girls' golf team ended very strong this year. This year was a learning year, especially for first time golf coach Matt McKenzie. It was at the California Invitational that the girls started to understand what they were doing wrong. After the invitational, the girls started dropping strokes and turning in much lower scores. At that point, they had an opportunity to win a few meets, but due to illness, they were not qualified. McKenzie said that he was very proud of the golf team this year.
"In high school golf, you can play five girls and drop the highest score. Since there were only four girls, they went out each meet knowing that their score would count, no matter if they were having a bad day or not."

The girls finished fifth at districts, where three of the girls shot season lows. Samantha Richman qualified for state with a score of 98 . She shot a 99 on the first day and a 100 the second day with a combined score of 199. She tied for 44th place.

From the freshmen placing second in the Freshmen Classic to the junior varsity placing third in the Harrisburg Tournament, the freshmen and junior varsity Lady Panthers had an overall great season. Though these wins are very near to the hearts of the players, this is not the major part of the season the girls focused on.
"The best part of our season was probably all of us becoming a lot closer," freshman Alex Blackwell said, "We didn"t know each other that well before, and after it we're all really good friends." The successful season is probably the result of their bonds with one another. The freshmen Lady Panthers ended their season with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses and the junior varsity Lady Panthers ended up 11 wins and 4 losses.

Freshman Felicia McCann agrees, "...in the end we all really cared about each other, and we played well together and

Lady Panthers Receive Honors

The Lady Panthers had a tough season, but three received honors for their accomplishments. Senior Markie England and junior Shelly Rosenfelder were Clarence, Cannon Conference second team selections this year. Rosenfelder also made all-district second team selection. Senior Jayci Angell made the coaches' academic alkstate team. Angell had to keep a 4.0 GPA in order to be eligible. team received third at the South Shelby Tournament.

Varsity Boys'

After starting the year off in a bit of a slump, the boys' varsity basketball team ended the season on a high note by finishing 4-3 in the Clarence Cannon Conference.
'Our seniors this year, Jimmy Gesling, Shannon Dawson, Grant Wainscott, and Harry Decker, were responsible for our turn-around because of their leadership ability and hard working attitude," Coach Brian Brown said.

Jimmy Gesling was the boys' leading scorer and rebounder and was also a second team all- conference and second team all-district pick. Shannon Dawson was chosen as defensive player of the year.

Winning the Courtwarming game against South Shelby and winning the senior night game against Fayette were the highlights of the season.

With a new basketball coaching staff the boys had to adjust, but overall they made it through the season with a good outlook on next year. Many of the players were able to continue to perfect their skills and also beepme the leaders of the team. High-scorers were presented throughout area newspapers and brought to the attention of the community. In the future, when the boys become more used to their coaches and each other, they will be a force to be reckoned with, and by the effort they presented this year the future could be as soon as next year.

Select Seven Compete at State

Seven of the CHS wrestlers had the oportunity to compete at state level on February 16-18 at the Mizzou Arena in Columbia. The select seven consisted of Josh Wisdom, Shannon Griffin, Alonzo Pineiro, Boone Lee, Justin Hinten, Mark Morse, and Schuyler Prenger. Coaching the team this year was Mike Adkisson and Brian Schmidt.

The wrestlers did well placing at invitationals. Being near top at the Knobnoster Invitational Tournament the team placed 2nd. The next weekend they placed 3rd in pool competition and the Mexico Invitational Tournament. After a six-year abscense at the Brentwood Tournament the grapplers placed 2nd in the tournament, and placing 3rd in the Moberly Quad.

District Competition was held at Whitfield Preparatory School in suburban St. Louis. Three Centralia grapplers were crowned district champions with seven in all advancing to the state championship tournament. Wisdom, Morse, and Lee went undefeated for the two-day tournament and came home with first-place medals. Prenger and Hinten wrestled their best matches the second half of the season, advanced to the finals match of their brackets only to come up short. Pineiro wan his consolation finals match with a pin earning him a third place finish in his first high school district tournament. Griffin faced a rematch in the semifinals losing causing him to return home with a fourth place finish.

Four seniors ended their wrestling careers after state. Shannon Griffin, Josh Wisdom, Justin Hinten and Schuyler Prenger. For some it was a 13-year journey but for some it was just a journey.

State qualifiers top off banner season for Centralia Cross Country

With three runners ranking in state competitions, the 2005 season for the Centralia cross country team turned out to be a pleasant surprise.
"We had a lot of new people," coach Josh Dorr said. "It was interesting to see how the season would turn out.'

Along with taking first at Helias, the women's CXC team also saw freshman Sierra Angell take 110th at the state competition, while the men's team, who took second at Helias, saw seniors Grant Wainscott and AJ Jesse take 63rd and 56th at state, respectively.
"I'd say Grant and AJ were my hardest workers," Dorr said.
Dorr also looks forward to next year's season, noting that he would like to see some improvement, and he expects hard work over the summer from next year's team.

Four Lady Panthers Make It to State

This year was a successful for the Lady Panthers' track team. First, they tied for second in the Clarence Cannon Confence. Later they competed at districts and took third as a team and four girls represented them at the state meet held on May 20 at Jefferson City. Those competing at state were Felica McCann in shot put, Mallory Henry in the 110 m hurdles, and Lindsey Bramon and Shayla Cox in pole vaulting. (State results were not available before the yearbook deadline.)

In With The New

The new track also has been redesigned by moving the long jump and triple jump. A new pole vault pad, high jump area, shot put and discus areas are also new along with the new track. The home meets were limited last year because of contruction of the new track, but this year the team hosted 10 home meets including the Clarence Cannon Conference and district meets.

One small step for the girls, one giant step for Centralia High School. Fall 2005 was the first year for girls' volleyball. Starting from scratch with a new sport takes massive preparation. Coaches Julie Crum and Becky K-Meyer put a lot of hard work into the season.

During the summer, coaches put together a volleyball camp. The camp was for girls in middle and high school. Many girls showed up, but only some played during the season, which started out with practices and open gyms. The girls found out later when they made the varsity and junior varsity teams. Some players traveled back and forth between j.v. and varsity.

Senior Glessie Reese was one of those girls. "This year was wicked awesome and a ton of fun. I learned a lot and plan on playing intramural volleyball next year at Truman State University."

The varsity team had three captains: Ashley Bruce, Shelley Rosenfelder and Gracie Wilkerson,. Senior captain Wilkerson said, "Volleyball was a really good experience, and I am glad we have it."

Seniors

"Wot everything that is faced can be changed, but nothing can be changed until it is faced." - James . Baldeoine

It is widely known that seniors are the only class to have color photographs in the yearbook. This year, the senior class of 2006 decided to donate the money from the colored photographs to graduating seniors in the Lamar County School District in Parvis, MS who were affected by Hurricane Katrina. The seniors also extended a challenge to the community. The senior class donated $$ 2,000$, and the commnits donated $$ 215$ for a grand total of $$ 2,215$.

A-D Storm surge

The 2005 hurricane season led to a record 27 named storms - 14 of them hurricanes - with several of them striking the U.S. Gulf and Attantic coasts. Losses were estimated at $$ 57.6$ billion in the U.S. from hurricanes Katrina, Rita and Wilma, with those first two storms throwing more than 500,000 people out of work. Here's a breakdown of some of the damage:

- Katrina struck the tip of Florida before making a beeline for Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama on Aug. 29, destroying homes and businesses and taking more than 1,200 lives.
- New Orleans flooded after levees broke, leading to many rooftop rescues. More than 25,000 people, including the 23,000 who fled to the New Orleans Superdome, were sent to Houston's Astrodome for temporary shelter.
- The Mississippi coast took a direct hit, with high winds and 20 -foot high waves leveling buildings and even moving casinos off their moorings.
- About 372,000 children from all three states started school in different cities or were being home-schooled; and approximately 18,000 college students from Louisiana spent the fall semester at other universities.
- Rita struck three weeks later in Louisiana and Texas. In one of the largest evacuations ever, 2.8 million people in southeast Texas, including Houston and Galveston, struggled to leave.
- Arlene hit Mississippi and Alabama, while Dennis struck Alabama and Florida. Ophelia stayed offshore of the Carolinas and Virginia and pummeled the area with heavy rains.

E. Hurricane tragedies widespread

Wilma hit Mexico first, stranding tourists and damaging Mexico's resorts and economy. The tragedy was much greater in Guatemala following heavy rain from Hurricane Stan. More than 650 people died and more than 370 were missing after massive landslides there buried communities. Mexico, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras and Costa Rica also reported deaths and damage from Stan.

M. Mountain tragedy

A massive earthquake in the mountains of the Kashmir region of Pakistan in October killed more than 79,000 people, injured almost as many, and left about 3.3 million homeless as winter approached. Donations were lacking and relief supplies were slow in reaching the needy.

N. New Pope

 Joseph Ratzinger, a 78-year-old German cardinal, was installed as Pope Benedict XVI. Benedict, who now leads the world's 1.1 billion Catholics, worked closely in the Vatican with his predecessor, Pope John Paul II.
O. Flu scare for the birds

Medical officials put the world on notice after a strain of avian flu was detected in some isolated human cases in China and Hong Kong. After more cases popped up elsewhere, the World Health Organization urged countries to prepare for a possible pandemic. There were concerns not only about migratory birds spreading the disease, but commercial fowl shipped for consumption.

P. Nuclear concerns

The U.S., Great Britain, France and Germany continued to pressure Iran to reduce its nuclear activities, and wanted the United Nations security council to impose sanctions.

Q. Should they listen in?

The National Security Agency came under fire for using electronic eavesdropping without warrants. The practice began after the $9 / 11$ attacks to fight terrorism, and while the Bush administration, including Attorney General Alberto Gonzales, defended the practice, others argued it was illegal.

R. Mining tragedies

Sixteen West Virginia coal miners died in separate accidents in January, as did one miner in Kentucky. In the first accident at the Sago mine in West Virginia, a terrible miscommunication led the families to believe the men were alive after a 41hour rescue.

 political party, Kadima, and was seeking support at the polls as he attempted to reach a peace agreement with Palestinians.

T. Tsunami recovery

Tourists began returning to :areas in Asia where a tsunami swallowed people, towns and livelihoods on Dec. 26, 2004. Aid came from across the globe to the dozen countries that were hit. In the U.S., the relief effort was headed by an unlikely pair - former presidents George H.W. Bush and Bill Clinton.

U. Paris ablaze

France endured 18 nights of rioting that started in the poor suburbs of Paris. The arsons and other acts of destruction began after the accidental electrocution of two teens who thought police were chasing them, and turned into protests against the government for racial discrimination and unemployment.
V. A new money man

Ben Bernanke was appointed by President Bush to be the new chairman of the Federal Reserve board, a position that directs monetary policy for the U.S. and affects your wallet. Bernanke, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, replaced Alan Greenspan, who was the muchwatched Federal Reserve chairman for 18 years.

W. ARRGe!

An old-fashioned battle of the sea was won with today's technology. Pirates attacked the Seabourn Spirit cruise ship off the coast of Somalia with grenade launchers and machine guns, but never got close enough to board. The cruise ship crew used a sonic device to send an ear-splitting noise toward the pirates, then shifted to high 4 Hend an ear-splitting noise to
